Hearing continuation on: HB2007 — Creating a law enforcement mutual aid region for critical incidents.

Chairman Brunk opened the hearing for comments and clarifications from some of the parties to the bill.

Ed Klumpp spoke first stating that a tentative compromise agreement was in the works. "We are going over the draft of the bill with the revisor and there may be some minor changes in the wording. So we may come to an agreement and withdraw our opposition. We are working on a better definition and clarifying changes. These alterations could create an agreement that would withdraw our opposition because there would be better definition and clarification. There are still some questions particularly on lines 8, 9 and 10 as to how to frame the definition. Jason Long in the revisor's office is assisting on the issues."

CONTINUATION SHEET

MINUTES of the Committee on Federal and State Affairs at 9:00 am on Thursday, February 05, 2015, 346-S of the Capitol.

Fred Farris commented that they had heard the questions and worked them out and the conflict is gone.

Representative Melissa Rooker said that her district number 25 borders Missouri with 8 cities and 5 Chiefs of Police. She said that they cross over the state line without any problems. They have a school that straddles the state line and a country club with the club in one state and the parking lot in the other. She wants there to be a compromise and go on to the next step of cooperation.

Jason Long gave the committee a briefing on how HB2007 differs from existing law, namely K.S.A. 19-828 which was first enacted in 1999 as part of a broader act aimed at enforcement of controlled substances laws. (Attachment 1)

Chairman Brunk said that he would leave the hearing open to a later date.
