

My son needs the Medicaid expansion. He can't afford the affordable care insurances. He therefore has to pay tax penalties because he is too poor to afford it. Therefore being taxed because he is poor, and he can't afford that tax either. He also has medical conditions for which he is not able to seek care. One of them can become serious, even deadly if not taken care of and no doctor will see him without a thousand dollars down for an operation and large monthly payments. Neither which he can afford.

It's ridiculous that only the wealthy or those with better income can receive care. Kansas should be ashamed. The state should also be forced to pay all the tax penalties the poor are being forced to pay from this year on. If there's a lawyer willing to sue on behalf of these low income/tax penalized people, sign him up as a plaintiff.

Thank you,

Lisa Stotler
