Footnotes:

1. Hardware program savings include those from Dell, HP, Lenovo, Juniper, Enterasys, Systemax, Mitel, Sun, EIQ, and Xerox.
2. Software program savings are from the Novell/MHEC Collaborative Program, Oracle, Corel, Arrow/VMWare, SAS, and Open Systems.
3. Based on premium & loss information as of June 30, 2015.
4. Technology Services program savings include those from Info-Tech Research Group and CampusEAI.
5. Student tuition savings through the academic year 2014-2015.
6. Other initiatives are sunsetted programs: office products, telecommunications, equipment maintenance, and academic scheduling, Interactive video, and APN.
7. Iowa State University asked MHEC to bid their property insurance for FY 2009. The MHEC bid, with a much lower deductible, was $186,205 less per year than ISU was paying. ISU selected their current carrier at a price of $858,824 or $201,532 less than paid in FY 2008.
8. In 2009, 2012, and 2013, SD Office of Risk Management requested a quote for property insurance at its six SD Regent institutions. Even though the SD Offices of Risk Management kept its current carrier, they indicated the MHEC quotes saved the institutions $85,000, $239,302, and $168,233 respectively.
