

We have a 2 and a half year old daughter Aiyana Biyala, who is suffering from a very rare neurological disorder called CDKL5. She is one of the approximate 700 kids (mostly girls) in the world suffering from this disorder and probably the only one in the state of Kansas.

Aiyana's disorder comes with severe developmental disabilities including multiple types of seizures that are also hampering her development. Currently she is getting three to four seizures a day. She has been on ketogenic diet since she was six months old and has been on 3 to 4 different anti-epileptic medicines at a time. Unfortunately none of that has been able to help her get any relief from seizures.

We are seriously looking into medical cannabis and the possibility of relocating to Colorado to give her a better quality of life.

Thanks

Urvi Biyala
