Briefing by Community College Presidents on college programs

After calling the meeting to order, Chairman Joseph C. Harder yielded the floor to Dr. Merle Hill, executive director, Kansas Association of Community Colleges. Dr. Hill introduced, with brief resumes, the presidents of Kansas community colleges who were in attendance.

The presidents introduced were: Dr. Rodney V. Cox, Butler County Community College; Dr. James P. Ihring, Cloud County Community College; Dr. Dan Kenny, Coffeyville Community College; Dr. Mikel Ary, Colby Community College; Dr. Patrick J. McAtee, Cowley County Community College; Dr. Thomas Gamble, Dodge City Community College; Dr. James H. Tangeman, Garden City Community College; Dr. Jo Ann C. McDowell, Independence Community College; Dr. Charles J. Carlsen, Johnson County Community College; Dr. Bill R. Spencer, Kansas City Kansas Community College; Dr. Joseph Roberts, Labette Community College; Dr. George H. Van Allen, Neosho County Community College; Dr. William A. Wojciechowski, Pratt Community College; Dr. Theodore W. Wischropp, Seward County Community College; Dr. James H. Stringer, Hutchinson Community College; and Dr. Bill Griffin, Allen County Community College.

The Chair recognized Dr. Charles Carlsen, president of Johnson County Community College, who cited examples of how a community college can be an effective tool in the community's economic development process. One of Dr. Carlsen's focuses was on the Burlington Northern Training Center on the campus of Johnson County Community College and the monetary impact this center has had for Johnson County. (Hotels, food purchases, payroll, materials and supplies purchases, etc.) Dr. Carlsen noted that one of the reasons the center has remained in Kansas is due to the training the college can provide when needed.

The president of the Garden City Community College, Dr. James Tangeman, described the college's two plus two program, also known as the tech prep program. He explained that its focus is to work with the public school system to identify at-risk students who are likely to drop out of school due to lack of interest in anything. This program attempts to identify these students in their junior year and to begin to channel them into an occupational area, so that they might continue into a technical program at the community college level upon completion of high school. He said an attempt is being made now to try to identify these students in the ninth grade. Dr. Tangeman described the needs of the minority population in his area and classes which started last fall to teach reading and writing via international symbols. He noted two companies which had contacted the college regarding training programs at Garden City.

MINUTES OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION, room 123-S, Statehouse, at 1:30 ~~am~~/p.m. on Thursday, January 25, 1990

Dr. Jo Ann C. McDowell, gave an overview of Independence Community College and some of the things the college is doing to help maintain a healthier business environment in Southeast Kansas. Dr. McDowell described the implementation of a corporate wellness program, which, she said, had been adapted by all the major industries in Cherryvale and Independence. Dr. McDowell also noted the monetary impact on their area by new and expanding industry in Southeast Kansas. (Attachment 1 - "Business and Industries Served by Independence Community College, Independence, Kansas" Academic Year: 1988-89)

Dr. Patrick McAtee, Cowley County Community College, noted how critical it is for the community college to respond to training needs in the community. Dr. McAtee illustrated his college's involvement in economic development in the community via a video cassette recording which had been prepared by constituents in his community to be used in a salute to the community college.

Following presentations by the community college presidents, Senator Montgomery moved that minutes of the meeting of January 23 be approved. Senator Frahm seconded the motion, and the motion carried.

The Chairman adjourned the meeting.
