MINUTES OF THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS, COMMERCE & LABOR.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Al Lane at approximately 9:00 a.m. on January 17, 1997 in Room 526-S of the Capitol.

All members were present except: Rep. David Adkins - excused

Committee staff present: Jerry Donaldson, Legislative Research Department
Bob Nugent, Revisor of Statutes

Conferees appearing before the committee: Phil Harness, Workers Comp, KDHR

Others attending: No guest list was passed.

Phil Harness, Director of the Division of Workers Compensation, Kansas Department of Human Resources (KDHR), appeared before the committee to give a more detailed view of his division. They traditionally receive approximately 100,000 employer's reports of accidents per year. The division is currently still in a pilot program accepting accident reports by electronic data interchange (EDI), which accounts for about 4% of the total accident report filings. They are pursuing further process streamlining and cost reduction through a continued emphasis on the cost-effective use of technological equipment. He talked a little about: the medical fee schedules; statutory compliance of employers to have workers compensation insurance coverage; the on-going education of employees, employers, representatives of the insurance industry, medical providers, etc.; the annual report of Fiscal Year 95-96; the pilot mediation program; the Workers Compensation Board; and how they were keeping up with the caseload and the number of appeals. (see Attachment 1) He also furnished each member with a copy of the Workers Compensation Annual Report of Fiscal Year 1995-96. This report is available at the Kansas Department of Human Resources and there are also copies to read in Chairman Lane's office 115-S in the Capitol Building.

In answer to question asked on Wednesday, January 15, Mr. Harness brought with him a list of the workers compensation insurance carriers who are presently doing business within the State, along with a copy of those 273 employers who have been approved to be self-insured. There are also 23 group pools active in the State. He also corrected the number of active boilers being inspected in the State down from 30,000, which was his estimated number given to the committee on Wednesday, to between 25,000 and 26,000. The numbers fluctuate according to how many new ones are added and how many are in buildings that are being demolished. He finished his presentation by answering many questions from the committee.

Chairman Lane ended the meeting by making announcements about next week's agenda.

The next meeting is scheduled for January 22, 1997.

COMMENTS BY PHILIP S. HARNESS
DIRECTOR OF DIVISION OF WORKERS COMPENSATION
KANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN RESOURCES

TO THE HOUSE COMMITTEE ON BUSINESS, LABOR & COMMERCE
JANUARY 17, 1997

Throughout the past year, the Division of Workers Compensation has continued its emphasis on improving responsiveness to customers in all aspects of our operations.

For example, a traditional workers compensation case begins with the filing of the employer's report of accident. The Division traditionally receives approximately 100,000 of these reports per year. Any enhancement to the receipt, transmission, and sharing of the information on the accident reports has hinged on the increased utilization of electronic data interchange (EDI). The Division is currently still in a pilot program accepting accident reports by EDI from one (1) insurance carrier (Kemper), which accounts for approximately 4% of the total accident report filings. In another area of electronic data interchange, the Division is currently negotiating with the Secretary of Health and Environment to join the State's health care data base, under the auspices of the Kansas Insurance Commissioner, for the receipt of detailed medical information. In the next calendar year, the Division will also be considering the purchase of an optical scanner for paper documents, thereby eliminating some labor-intensive data input by the technical staff while improving the timeliness of document availability. I intend to pursue further process streamlining and cost reduction through a continued emphasis on the cost-effective use of technological equipment.

Customer input, whether from external or internal customers, has long been, and still is, requested and considered by the Division. During the past year, a Hospital Reimbursement Task Force was established as a forum for discussion of issues related to appropriate methods for reimbursing hospitals for workers compensation hospitalization. With the assistance of representatives from both sides of the issue and various interest groups, the task force was able to educate employees of the Division as to the special considerations and external circumstances surrounding reimbursement questions, reached some conclusions, and were able to put various alternative reimbursement methods on the table. As a result, a new and more cost-effective method will be utilized in the 1997 Maximum Medical Fee Schedule.

The 1996 Legislature passed amendments to the law setting forth a new penalty for failure to secure workers compensation insurance, i.e. double the amount of what the premium would have been or $25,000, whichever is greater. Through vigilant monitoring and enforcement of this new provision, the newly created Compliance Unit brought 180 more employers into statutory compliance with workers compensation insurance coverage requirements, thereby generating approximately $480,000 in additional premiums (which should, of course, distribute the costs of the system more equitably). Most importantly, the extended coverage added protection to a number of employees in the event of work-related injury or illness.

The on-going education of employees, employers, representatives of the insurance industry, medical providers, etc., is still a priority within the Division. The Kansas Department of Human Resources sponsors employer institutes, in both the fall and spring, in several cities located throughout the State and the Division of Workers Compensation always shares in the program. In addition, the Division sponsors an Annual Safety & Health Conference and two (2) Workers Compensation Seminars with the same program being offered in both Sedgwick and Johnson Counties, for convenience of attendees. In 1996, approximately 400 people attended the Safety & Health Conference and approximately 900 people attended the Workers Compensation Seminars. The Workers Compensation Seminars offer continuing education credit for attorneys, nurses, and emergency medical technicians at a reasonable cost.

The major cost driver behind workers compensation is still, of course, the occurrence of occupational injuries and illnesses. Since 1993, the number of lost-time cases in Kansas - i.e., injured workers missing seven (7) or more work days as the result of an occupational injury or illness - are as follows (Chart found on Page 22 of the annual report):

1993	1994	1995	1996
40,000	40,500	40,000	20,200

Provided to you today is the newly released Annual Report of Fiscal Year 95-96, including the statistical tables which begin with a summary on pp. 24-25, with the tables following all the way to p. 52. There is a bar graph on p. 22 showing frequency of injuries to specific body parts, which is a visual chart of Table III located at pp. 30-31. Outside of miscellaneous, one would note that the back is still the body member injured most frequently, followed by the fingers. Table IV, found at p. 32 of the statistical report, shows the accident severity by nature, and outside of a miscellaneous category, sprains and strains is still the leader, followed by cuts, lacerations, and puncture wounds.

The Division is engaged in a pilot mediation program, pursuant to 1996 Legislation, which I am happy to announce has met with at least some success. While we have tried hard to promote the mediation program through ombudsman contacts, seminar promotions, etc., most of the scheduled mediations still occur as a result of "cold calling" by the Division, i.e. a clerical worker contacts parties as soon as an application for hearing is filed to see if both parties would submit to mediation. While on-the-spot settlements still occur less frequently than not, it is encouraging to note that after mediation, only approximately one-fourth (1/4) of those cases go on for trial. Apparently, although a settlement may not be reached at mediation, the parties agree at a later date upon some sort of settlement, thereby obviating the necessity of a hearing.

The Ombudsman Section, mandated by the 1993 reforms, show 40,641 contacts, on p. 17 of the annual report. Half of those contacts are with employees, the other half are apportioned between insurance agents, health care providers, insurance carriers, attorneys, employers, and others.

The Workers Compensation Board, the body set up to review decisions appealed from Administrative Law Judges in workers compensation matters, have instituted changes to help alleviate the current backlog. As applications for review for preliminary orders (concerning only medical payments and temporary total disability), the Board is currently caught up, assisted by the 1996 Legislation which allows for a decision on a preliminary order to be heard by, decided, and signed by one board member only. As to final awards, a significant backlog still exists, which are cases exceeding the statutory 30-day time period which the Board must make a decision after presentation of argument by the parties. We attempted to address the problem by increasing the number of legal assistants, secretaries, and appointing an office manager. The Board plans to implement a summary calendar which would not require the attorneys to be present for oral argument, set up a standard briefing schedule, thereby eliminating the current problems associated with last minute briefs being filed with the Board.

Generally, it was felt by some that, after an initial peak in appeals being filed shortly after the 1993 statutory reforms, the number of appeals would diminish or at least "flatten out." However, certain months in calendar 1996 did not reenforce that theory; rather, it showed perhaps the opposite was true. For example, in one month in the summer of 1996, a record number (approximately 100) motions for review were filed with the Board, a number greatly in excess of the number of decisions that the Board averages per month. That particular month reflected that almost three-fourths (3/4) of all the decisions by the Administrative Law Judges were appealed. Although this is higher than normal, still a significant number of appeals are being taken. Also, the Board's statistics indicate that slightly more than fifty percent (50%) of all appeals being taken result in some modification of the Administrative Law Judges' initial order, whether that be a slight change in the figure, or even a remand back to the Administrative Law Judge based upon different findings by the Board.

On the other hand, at the trial level, the Administrative Law Judges are virtually caught up, with a few exceptions. The Division has implemented a uniform policy of scheduling and holding preliminary or motion hearings within 21 days of the request for hearing; scheduling and holding prehearing settlement conferences within 45 days of the request for hearing; and scheduling and holding regular hearings within 30 days of the request. While the number of preliminary hearings held decreased from the prior fiscal year, the total number of all hearings held increased, even though there were numerous judicial vacancies during the past fiscal year with Assistant Directors and Special Administrative Law Judges holding hearings during the time of those vacancies.

Pursuant to statutory change in 1993, vocational rehabilitation became discretionary with the employer. As a result, the Division notes that there has been an approximate 80% decrease in vocational rehabilitation utilization.

I have attached a copy of the workers compensation insurance carriers presently doing business within the State, along with a copy of those 273 employers who have been approved to be self-insured. There are also 23 group pools active in the State.
