

MINUTES OF THE SENATE COMMITTEE ON COMMERCE.

The meeting was called to order by Chairperson Senator Karin Brownlee at 8:30 a.m. on February 05, 2002 in Room 123-S of the Capitol.

All members were present except:

Committee staff present: April Holman, Legislative Research
Norman Furse, Revisor of Statues
Sherman Parks, Revisor of Statues
Lea Gerard, Committee Secretary

Conferees appearing before the committee: Doctor Kim Wilcox, Director, Board of Regents NORED
Barb Reavis, Workforce Development Coordinator
Kris Kitchen, Executive Director for Heartland Works

Others attending: See attached list.

Committee members were provided with a copy of the response from Janet Buchanan, Chief of Telecommunications, KCC regarding a summary of KUSF funds (Attachment 1).

The Kansas Corporation Commission submitted a report to Committee members to comply with requirements of KSA 66-11-7b (Attachment 2).

Chairperson Brownlee introduced Barb Reavis, Workforce Development Coordinator. Barb Reavis introduced Doctor Kim Wilcox, Executive Director for the Board of Regents who presented an overview of the NORED report and the Regents perspective of Workforce Development (Attachment 3).

Dr. Kim Wilcox briefed the Committee on progress since July, 1999 when SB 345 reorganized higher education in Kansas and changed the scope of responsibility and authority for the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents created a plan for coordination of higher education which is comprised of the following five goals: 1) Increase access to higher education; 2) Improve movement from one institution to another in Kansas; 3) Improved quality of life workforce development and research; 4) Create a system for adequate and equitable funding of post secondary education; 5) organization and governance. The NORED report was commissioned to assist the Board with the transition and has 31 recommendations for Kansas higher education. Dr. Wilcox stated one of the most fundamental aspects of the report is the recommendation that the Board of Regents position itself to be a policy board and not an administrative board. The distinction between the two is that a policy board should set standards for higher education in Kansas, focus on educational and economic development priorities for the state, and be centered on accountability.

Barb Reavis, Workforce Development Coordinator briefed the Committee on the statewide advisory board for the Workforce Network Kansas Board (Attachment 4). The Workforce Network consists of six state agencies administering 30 individual programs.

Committee questions and discussion followed regarding the definition of workforce development and bringing everything under one roof may not be the solution. The Committee appreciated Barb Reavis' comments that the board will work very hard to make every effort that they are not duplicating efforts for clients and to make the clients job in finding help easier.

Kris Kitchen, Executive Director for Heartland Works presented an overview of Heartland Works (Attachment 5).

Senator Steineger moved, seconded by Senator Jordan that the Minutes of January 22, 23, 24 and 29, 2002 be approved. Motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:30 a.m.

The next meeting is scheduled for February 06, 2002 at 8:30 a.m.

Senate Commerce Committee Members

In care of Ms. Lea L. Gerard

Capitol Building

300 SW 10th, Room 136-N

Topeka, KS 66612

Dear Ms. Gerard:

Please extend my thanks to the Senate Commerce Committee for the opportunity to appear before them to present the activities of the Kansas Corporation Commission regarding telecommunications. The Committee requested additional information. This letter serves as the Commission's response to the request.

Attached you will find a portion of the requested information. The first attachment contains, by year, information regarding the KUSF support received by each Kansas local exchange carrier and the assessment paid by each local exchange carrier's customers. The second attachment contains more specific information regarding the percentage of access lines served by local exchange carriers and competitive local exchange carriers.

In addition, the Committee requested a comparison of the amount of KUSF received by certain independent local exchange carriers before and after the audit that was conducted by the Commission. Rural Telephone Company received $4,794,084 in KUSF support prior to the audit. As a result of the audit findings and a Commission ruling that some lines that had been reported by the company are not eligible for support¹, the company will now receive $4,039,749. Craw-Kan Telephone Cooperative received $1,955,355 in KUSF support prior to its audit. The Company will now receive $1,459,347. Bluestem Telephone Company received $251,265 in KUSF support prior to its audit. The company will now receive $50,474. Sunflower Telephone Company received $1,464,970 in KUSF support prior to its audit. The company will now receive $7,057. Pioneer Telephone Association received $1,810,975 in KUSF support prior to its audit. The company will now receive $2,878,119. The increase in support for Pioneer is temporary until the Commission issues a final order in Docket Number 02-GIMT-068-KSF. Southern Kansas Telephone Company received $3,903,478 in KUSF support prior to its audit. The Commission has determined that the company has excess revenue of $2,819,663 but has not issued an order regarding rate design. Given previous rate design decisions of the ¹ Rural Telephone Company had reported "hot lines," which are lines that allow a customer to place outgoing calls to a single number. No incoming calls can be received on that line. The Commission determined that such lines do not meet the definition of universal service and should not receive support.

Commission, it is likely that the majority of this amount will be used to reduce the amount of support Southern Kansas Telephone Company receives from the KUSF.

The Committee also requested information regarding how companies have used KUSF support. The statute defines Universal Service as:

“Universal service” means telecommunications services and facilities which include: single party, two-way voice grade calling; stored program controlled switching with vertical service capability; E911 capability; tone dialing; access to operator service; access to directory assistance; and equal access to long distance services. (K.S.A. 66-1,187(p).)

Therefore, KUSF support should be used to provide these universal services in high cost areas of the state. Nearly all Kansas customers are served by digital switches. In 1994, digital switches served only 73% of all access lines in the state. The Commission’s most recent information (1998) suggests that only 1,039 customers are still served by electro-mechanical switches. Equal access to long distance service is now available to all customers in the state; an improvement over 1994 when only 91% of customers had equal access. Nearly all Kansans have access to basic 911 service and 1998 data reports that 96% of customers have access to E911 service. This is an improvement from 1994 when 94% of Kansans had access to basic 911 and only 85% had access to E911 service. At least 99% of Kansans have access to customized local area signaling services such as automatic call back, caller identification, and selective call rejection. In comparison, only 66% of access lines had this capability in 1994. Nearly all Kansans now have single party lines. All carriers were required to implement System Signaling-7 by July 2001. This signaling is required in order to provide enhanced services. Local exchange carriers are also making investments to provide enhanced universal service, high speed data service, to their customers. According to information gathered from the 2000 Annual Reports filed by local exchange carriers, 31 of the 40 local exchange carriers have broadband capable facilities in place with the ability to serve the majority of the exchanges within their respective territories.

Again, please extend my thanks to the Committee for the opportunity to appear on behalf of the Commission. I hope the Committee will find this information responsive to its requests. If there are any questions regarding this information, please direct the Committee members to contact me at (785) 271-3293.

Sincerely,

Janet Buchanan

- (1) Year 1 KUSF Support amounts are prior to any offset for rebalancing rates to the statewide average.
- (2) Rural LECs signed a Stipulation & Agreement, resulting in some of the companies having a lower, or no, assessment due in a particular year.
- (3) The Year 6 support reflects reductions for companies whose revenue requirements have been determined by the Commission.

State of Competition

Number of Competitors

CLECs Certified = 155 CLECs Reporting Access Lines = 29

In fiscal year 2001, the Commission received 87 CLEC requests for certification. This is an increase of 42 over fiscal year 2000. Additionally, in fiscal year 2001, the Commission ceased the certificates of 67 CLECs. This is an increase of 27 over fiscal year 2000.

2000 Access Line Count

Type of Access Line		CLECs		Sprint/United		SWBT		Independents		All Companies
		No. of Lines	% of Total	No. of Lines	% of Total	No. of Lines	% of Total	No. of Lines	% of Total
Business Lines	Resale	35,405	5.60%

Facilities Based CLECs are in SWBT Territory; thus considering only facilities based line count:
 CLEC % of Business Lines in SWBT Territory 15.38%
 CLEC % of Residence Lines in SWBT Territory 0.73%
 SWBT % of Business Lines in SWBT Territory 84.62%
 SWBT % of Residence Lines in SWBT Territory 99.27%

Sprint reports that 49 of its Business Lines and 924 of its Residence Lines are resold by CLECs; therefore, the remaining resold lines are attributed to SWBT. Then when considering both facilities based line count and resale line count:
 CLEC % of Business Lines in SWBT Territory 20.62%
 CLEC % of Residence Lines in SWBT Territory 3.69%
 SWBT % of Business Lines in SWBT Territory 79.38%
 SWBT % of Residence Lines in SWBT Territory 96.31%

CLECs competing in Sprint Territory offer service only through resold lines as reported above.
 CLEC % of Business Lines in Sprint Territory 0.15%
 CLEC % of Residence Lines in Sprint Territory 0.83%
 Sprint % of Business Lines in Sprint Territory 99.85%
 Sprint % of Residence Lines in Sprint Territory 99.17%

Independent Companies are exempted from the requirement to provide resale and/or UNEs at this time. However, Western Wireless has begun providing service in the territories of 15 independent companies. To date, Western Wireless has very few customers.

The percentages reported above do not take into account that the incumbent's service may have been replaced by wireless providers.

REPORT TO THE 2002 KANSAS LEGISLATURE

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION

Senate Commerce Committee

Feb 5, 2002

Attachment 2-1

Report of the Kansas Corporation Commission to the Kansas Legislature for Fiscal Year 2001

The Kansas Corporation Commission submits this report in compliance with requirements of K.S.A. 66-117b.

That statute requires the Commission to monitor and report annually to the legislature any changed rate, joint rate, toll, charge or classification or schedule of charges, or any rule or regulation or practices pertaining to service or rates approved by the Commission in the preceding fiscal year for a public utility or common carrier that had $10 million or more annual operating revenues in the previous calendar year.

This report covers action taken by the Kansas Corporation Commission for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 2000 through June 30, 2001. As in previous reports, this report includes information on Commission actions regarding utilities with less than $10 million annual operating revenues. Within each industry, information is provided separately for both categories. "Large" companies with more than $10 million of revenues. "Small" companies with less than $10 million in revenues. "Large" matters are cases which generally involve an application or petition from the company and a formal Commission order.

Electric Restructuring

The Commission is actively monitoring efforts to restructure the operation and regulation of the electric utility industry. Over the past 20 years, changes in technology (namely those related to system control and generation) and federal laws and regulations have introduced increasing competition to wholesale electric markets. While the generation segment of the industry is increasingly subject to the discipline of the marketplace, transmission and distribution of electricity are generally recognized as natural monopolies. As such, allowing competition in those segments will not be economically efficient and continued agency regulation of transmission and distribution functions remains appropriate.

Most proponents of electric restructuring argue that competitive generation markets will lower prices for generation service over time. Many opponents to electric restructuring express concern that the benefits of lower priced generation service may not benefit residential customers or customers currently served by low-cost utilities. On November 1, 2000, the U.S. Department of Energy's Energy Information Agency listed 24 states which were engaged in implementing electric restructuring. However, as of November 1, 2001, the EIA indicates that only 16 states have implemented restructuring, 7 states have delayed restructuring and 1 state (California) has suspended its restructuring initiatives. In Kansas, Commission staff has participated in the legislative Retail Wheeling Task Force, established by the 1996 passage of HB 2600. In 1997, the Commission employed the National Regulatory Research Institute (NRRI), a nonprofit, nationally recognized regulatory policy research group which primarily assists state utility regulatory commissions, to investigate and make recommendations regarding implementation of retail competition for the Kansas electric power industry. This report is available through the Commission's internet site at www.kcc.state.ks.us.

Federal Rulings

In response to the Energy Policy Act of 1992 (EPACT), the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) has taken steps to promote competition in wholesale generation markets through its regulation of electric transmission. In 1996, the FERC issued Orders 888 and 889. Order 888 required all utilities to file open access transmission tariffs which permit any entity to use its transmission system in a manner comparable to the utility's own use. Order 889 required transmission utilities to establish an information system that allows potential users of the system nondiscriminatory access to information concerning available capacity. On December 29, 1999, the FERC issued Order 2000. Order 2000 required all public utilities that operate interstate transmission facilities to file either a proposal for a regional transmission organization (RTO), a description of efforts to form an RTO, or reasons it is not participating in an RTO by October 15, 2000. Order 2000 also required all RTOs to be operational by December 15, 2001. In July of 2001, the FERC issued a series of orders designed to describe the relevant scope of any approved RTO. This series of orders included a determination that the Southwest Power Pool (SPP) was not sufficiently large enough to be an RTO. On October 19, 2001, SPP announced its decision to merge with the Midwest ISO (MISO) (although such merger has not yet been consummated). On November 9, 2001, the

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

FERC issued an order in response to criticism of its July actions and structured state, federal, and regional panels to comment on its actions regarding RTO implementation. On November 29, 2000, the Commission issued an order determining MISO was a public utility pursuant to the Kansas Public Utilities Act and denying MISO's request for a finding of no jurisdiction or, in the alternative, for a limited certificate that waives various Kansas statutory obligations. MISO's petition for reconsideration is pending before the Commission. On December 18, 2001, the Commission granted the application of UtiliCorp United Inc., d/b/a WestPlains Energy Kansas, to transfer control of its transmission facilities from UtiliCorp to MISO. CURB's petition for reconsideration on the transfer is also pending before the Commission. On December 20, 2001, the FERC determined that MISO's proposal satisfied the criteria required under Order 2000 and granted MISO RTO status. The FERC continues to investigate implementation of RTOs as well as the reliability and pricing issues involved in regional wholesale generation markets.

Generation Capacity and Reliability

The Commission continues to monitor the generation capacity and reliability of Kansas electric utilities. The Commission staff annually reviews generation and load forecasts of Kansas electric utilities to ascertain whether there is adequate electric supply to meet the needs of Kansas electric consumers. Based on its 2001 review, Staff determined that Kansas electric generation capacity appears sufficient through the year 2005 given current load and generation forecasts. While Kansas generation capacity margins appear adequate in the near term, Kansas utilities are no longer in a position of owning and operating excess generation capacity.

Geographical Information System

The Commission staff continues to enhance and optimize the digitized state and county utility maps as part of the long term GIS (Geographical Information System) mapping process. When complete, the maps will cross-reference Commission databases and will enable graphic projection on geographical maps prepared by other governmental agencies or private industry. This will improve efficiency in information retrieval as well as provide the future capability to transfer requested information over modems or fax machines. As an added benefit, digitally updating maps requires less manpower than the manual techniques used in the past.

Western Resources Rate Case

On March 17, 2000, Kansas Industrial Consumers (KIC) filed a complaint against Western Resources, which was docketed as Commission Docket No. 00-WSRE-855-COM. KIC asked the Commission to investigate rates and charges for electric service by KPL and its subsidiary KGE. Subsequently, Staff and Western Resources filed an agreement permitting Western Resources to file separate rate cases for KPL and KGE by November 25, 2000. On September 18, 2000, the Commission issued an order accepting and modifying the agreement. The Commission required KGE and KPL to file separate cost of service filings by November 27, 2000, and also required

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

Western Resources to provide combined KGE and KPL cost of service information by December 29, 2000.

On September 5, 2001, after responding to several petitions for reconsideration of its substantive rate setting order issued in July, the Commission issued the final order on revenue requirements in the rate case. The Commission ordered a $41 million decrease in the rates for KGE customers and a $25.4 million increase in the rates for KPL customers. The Commission also approved an interim method to refund the decrease to KGE customers and collect the increase from KPL customers, pending a final determination on rate design. A separate proceeding is being conducted to determine class cost of service and rate design.

On October 19, 2001 Western filed its proposed rate design to incorporate the Commission's September 5 revenue changes for KGE and KPL. It is anticipated that final rates for KPL and KGE customers will be determined by mid 2002. On November 9, 2001, Western Resources and the Kansas Industrial Customers filed separate appeals with the Court of Appeals regarding the revenue requirement phase of the rate case. Decisions in both cases are expected by March 29, 2002.

Western Resources Proposed Corporate Restructuring

On April 13, 2001, Western Resources made certain filings at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) indicating its intent to separate the electric utility from Western Resources' other assets. Under the filed plan two separately traded companies would have been formed. Western Resources would own the electric utility and all of the original debt, while Westar would own all of Western Resources' remaining assets with virtually none of the original Western Resources' debt associated with those assets. Had this separation occurred, Western Resources' electric utility would have had a capital structure of approximately 100% debt with 0% equity.

On May 8, 2001 the Commission opened a docket to investigate these transactions. Despite the Commission's action, on May 18, 2001, Western Resources took additional action to accelerate this separation. On May 22, 2001, the Commission issued a supplemental order declaring that Western Resources had not obtained the necessary Commission approvals under Kansas law and that the proposal filed before the SEC was "of no force or legal effect." Following a June hearing and investigation, on July 20, 2001, the Commission issued an order halting the proposed restructuring. On October 3, 2001, Western Resources filed an appeal of this Order with the Shawnee County District Court.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

Ad Valorem Tax Refund Proceedings

During the 2000-2001 winter heating season, Kansans paid record high natural gas prices due to severe cold weather which dramatically increased gas consumption. As a result, both the Kansas House and the Kansas Senate requested that the Commission investigate whether a low income gas assistance program could be funded by ad valorem tax refunds anticipated from settlements before the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC). In March 2001, the Commission conducted a series of extensive hearings and established a low income energy assistance program to be funded with ad valorem tax refunds recovered by the Kansas local distribution companies from interstate natural gas pipelines. The participation by Kansans who qualify under the Commission's guidelines has been encouraging and may require that all of the ad valorem tax refunds be utilized to fund the program. Certain large industrial customers appealed the Commission's decision to implement a low income energy assistance plan to the Kansas Court of Appeals. Two of those appeals resulted in affirmance of the Commission's orders on November 21, 2001. The other two appeals resulted in affirmance on January 11, 2002. So far, only one of the Kansas Court of Appeals decisions has been petitioned for review by the Kansas Supreme Court. Other attorneys involved in the Commission proceedings and appeals have filed a class action suit against the utilities in Federal District Court as a result of the Commission's orders, and are attempting to bring the Commission into that suit as a defendant.

The Commission additionally opened a docket to investigate whether Kansans who purchased natural gas directly from an interstate pipeline (and outside of FERC jurisdiction) were entitled to any ad valorem tax refunds. The Commission negotiated a settlement with Williams Gas Pipelines Central, Inc. in 2001. As a result, Kansans who were customers of that pipeline may receive a large refund and avoid a surcharge claimed by the interstate pipeline for gas sold during the 1983-1988 time period. The final distribution of monies anticipated from this settlement has not yet been determined by the Commission. Further, other interstate pipelines which made retail sales in Kansas have decided to litigate whether the Commission has jurisdiction over these sales.

The local distribution company ad valorem cases and the interstate pipeline ad valorem cases have become inter-related to an extent. The Williams' settlements at the FERC and Commission levels constituted a global settlement. The settlements are interdependent, and one cannot go into effect unless both do. The Williams' settlement at FERC represents the bulk of the money due to the local distribution companies, and ear-marked at the Commission level for funding the low income assistance programs. One group of large industrial customers contested the settlement at the FERC level, asking FERC to mandate that any funds received by the local distribution companies must be passed to the customers that paid the funds initially, to the extent possible. FERC rejected this request, stating that the distribution by local distribution companies was a Commission matter, a state matter rather than federal. The industrial customer group appealed the FERC decision to the D.C. Circuit Court, which granted a summary affirmance of FERC's decision on December 7, 2001. The large industrial group has 90 days from that decision to Petition for a Writ of Certiorari in the United States Supreme Court. Due to the interdependent nature of the Williams settlements at FERC and the Commission, because the FERC level settlement is not yet final, the Commission level settlement is not yet final. For this reason, although the low income distribution programs have been approved and implemented, the bulk of the money to fund those programs has not yet been flowed through to qualifying households.

Natural Gas Purchasing and Billing Reforms

Also during FY 2001, the Commission completed its deliberations in Docket No. 00-GIMG-425-GIG, which was opened to consider natural gas purchasing practice reforms. This docket included a "roundtable" discussion with all jurisdictional natural gas utilities, and resulted in certain changes in gas purchasing and Commission review procedures.

The Commission continues to monitor procedures for dealing with other transition costs associated with the restructuring of natural gas and electric services. Additional ongoing research topics have included pilot programs by local distribution companies (LDCs) to test various price hedging strategies aimed at preventing future price spikes, such as occurred during the winter of 2000/2001.

The generic investigation into the billing practices of jurisdictional gas utilities, Docket No. 97GIMG514GIG, was completed through a March 2001 Commission Order which mandated certain changes in jurisdictional utility billing standards. During FY 2001, efforts continued to achieve complete compliance with the new standards.

The Commission continues to regularly review the ongoing operation of Purchased Gas Adjustment clauses and to investigate and resolve complaints from ratepayers. Also during FY 2001, the Commission continued to certificate cooperatively owned local distribution companies to serve customers in areas where gas gathering system pressure decline continues to be a problem.

Natural Gas Pipeline Safety

Pipeline safety personnel continue to conduct on-site inspections of intrastate natural gas facilities. These inspections monitor the gas systems for any areas of non-compliance with pipeline safety regulations. A typical audit stresses compliance with odorization requirements, cathodic protection, emergency valve maintenance, leak surveys, and maintenance of records. In addition, engineers and pipeline safety inspectors investigate any incident caused or suspected of being caused by natural gas and report these to the Commission.

Pipeline safety personnel also investigate violations of the Kansas Underground Utilities Damage Prevention Act. Investigators work with excavators and utility operators to assure compliance with provisions of the act such as requesting locates prior to digging, and locating facilities within 48 hours of being notified of pending excavation work. Commission Staff continues to work with stakeholders to clarify the requirements of the Kansas Underground Utility Damage Prevention Act. Staff is preparing regulations to support the current statute. The Commission anticipates that these regulations will be promulgated in 2002.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

Telecommunications - For fiscal year 2001 (July 1, 2000, through June 30, 2001), the Kansas Corporation Commission ("Commission") has continued implementation of both state and federal legislation by reducing intrastate access charges to parity or closer to parity with interstate rates, establishing final rates for unbundled network elements, on which competitors are dependent, and authorizing the first competitive eligible telecommunications carriers. The Commission has continued on its path to make Kansas Universal Service Fund support cost based for all companies by auditing several rural telephone companies and opening a generic docket to establish cost based support for rural companies. Other issues directly affecting consumers, such as slamming and protection from discontinuance of service, have also been pursued. A new area code has been implemented for the southern half of the state. Following are selected highlights of the Commission's activities including updated information beyond the close of the fiscal year, where available:

Access Rates - Docket No. 01-GIMT-082-GIT

Local Exchange Carriers ("LECs") bill access charges to Interexchange Carriers ("IXCs") to originate or terminate long distance calls within an exchange. The Federal Communications Commission ("FCC") regulates the access rates for interstate calls, and the Commission regulates access charges for calls within Kansas. In this docket the Commission has reduced access rates for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("SWBT") and the United Telephone Companies ("Sprint/United").

SWBT and Sprint/United agreed to reduce their access rates by approximately $25 million and $8.5 million respectively as part of a Stipulation and Agreement ("S&A") with Sprint Long Distance ("Sprint"), AT&T Communications of the Southwest ("AT&T") and Commission Staff. Sprint and AT&T agreed to flow through the full amount of the access charge reduction for the duration of the S&A. The S&A allowed SWBT and Sprint to rebalance their lost access charge revenue to local rates.

The Commission held hearings on the S&A and issued an order approving it. SWBT implemented its initial access charge reduction October 1, 2001. Sprint/United will phase in its reductions over three years beginning June 1, 2002.

Reductions in access rates (and rebalancing to local rates) conform to K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 66-2005(c) by bringing rates to parity for SWBT and closer to parity for Sprint/United. The rebalancing also brings access and local service rates more in line with costs, which is more conducive to development of competition for local service. Access rates at or close to cost will also ensure a level playing field between the IXCs and Southwestern Bell Long Distance, which was granted entry into the long distance market by the FCC.

Rural carrier access charges were reduced by $80,000 on March 1, 2001, to achieve parity with their interstate access charges, in accordance with K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 66-2005(c). (Docket No. 00-GIMT-236-GIT)

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

Rural carriers will reduce their interstate access charge on January 1, 2002, in conformity with the FCC's Order on the Multi-Association Group (MAG) Plan for Regulation of Interstate Services of Non-Price Cap Incumbent Local Exchange Carriers and Interexchange Carriers. The Commission will review rural carrier intrastate access charges during 2002.

Kansas Universal Service Fund ("KUSF")

The KUSF was established by the Commission in 1996, as required by the Kansas Telecommunications Act ("Kansas Act"). For the first three years, the KUSF primarily replaced revenue lost by incumbent carriers as a result of reducing their intrastate access rates in compliance with K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 66-2005(c), which provides, "Subject to the commission's approval, all local exchange carriers shall reduce intrastate access charges to interstate levels as provided herein. Rates for intrastate switched access ... shall be reduced over a three-year period with the objective of equalizing interstate and intrastate rates in a revenue-neutral, specific and predictable manner."

For rural LECs, the statute requires reductions in intrastate access rates to interstate levels on March 1, 1997, and every two years thereafter. Non-rural local exchange carriers may recover their intrastate access revenue losses from the KUSF or, at the discretion of the Commission, by rate rebalancing. For the rural LECs, the Kansas Act provides that revenues lost as a result of mandatory intrastate access reductions be recovered from the KUSF.

The Year 2001 KUSF carrier assessment rates are lower than the Year 2000 rates, in part reflecting the transition from a revenue-neutral support mechanism to a fund that subsidizes the provision of universal service in high-cost locations.

Portability of the KUSF - Docket No. 99-GIMT-326-GIT

The Commission, in a December 29, 1999 order in this docket, among other things, held that all KUSF high cost support would be fully portable to competing eligible telecommunications carriers ("ETCs").

On March 15, 2000, two rural carrier groups, the State Independent Alliance ("SIA") and the Independent Telecommunications Group ("ITG") appealed the Commission's order to state district court claiming the Commission did not provide adequate notice that it intended to make the portability determinations applicable to rural carriers. Subsequently, the Commission agreed to reconsider these determinations, and SIA and ITG dismissed their appeal with prejudice.

Following direct and supplemental testimony, the Commission conducted a hearing on April 19, 2001. In its October 12, 2001 order, the Commission reaffirmed its decision that all KUSF payments are fully portable to competing ETCs and that high cost support payable to rural LECs is determined on a per line basis.

Cost Based KUSF for rural LECs - Docket No. 02-GIMT-068-KSF

The Commission opened this docket to determine cost based KUSF support for rural LECs. In making that determination the Commission will also examine the issue of affordable rates for local service in rural LEC service areas. Hearings are scheduled for February 20 and 21, 2002. In separate proceedings the Commission is conducting audits of the individual rural companies, to determine embedded cost of service and need for KUSF support.

Audits of Rural Independent LECs

The Commission has completed audits of the following rural companies:

•Rural Telephone Service Company ("Rural") - Docket No. 01-RRLT-083-AUD

During the audit Rural filed a separate request for $2.7 million in supplemental KUSF funds in Docket No. 01-RRLT-518-KSF. The Commission joined the two dockets. Based on testimony, hearing and briefs the Commission determined that Rural was over earning and directed the parties to file rate design proposals. An order addressing rate design is currently pending. The Commission denied Rural's request for supplemental funds.

•Southern Kansas Telephone ("Southern") - Docket No. 01-SNKT-544-AUD

On the basis of testimony, hearing and briefs, the Commission found that Southern had a revenue excess. On September 28, 2001, Southern filed a Petition for Reconsideration of the Commission's order. An order addressing Southern's petition was issued October 29, 2001.

•Craw-Kan Telephone ("Craw-Kan") - Docket No. 01-CRKT-713-AUD

The parties filed testimony and then negotiated a Stipulation & Agreement in this docket. The parties agreed that Craw-Kan was over earning and recommended a reduction in KUSF support. The Commission approved the S&A.

•Bluestem Telephone Company ("Bluestem") - Docket No. 01-BSTT-878-AUD

Staff and Bluestem filed testimony and negotiated a settlement. The parties agreed that Blue Stem was over earning and recommended a reduction in KUSF support. An order is pending.

•Sunflower Telephone Company ("Sunflower") - Docket No. 01-SFLT-879-AUD

Staff and Sunflower filed testimony and negotiated a settlement. Staff and Sunflower agreed that Sunflower was over earning and recommended a reduction in KUSF support. An order is pending.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

•Pioneer Telephone Association (“Pioneer”) - Docket No. 01-PNRT-929-AUD

Pioneer and Staff filed testimony and negotiated a settlement. Staff and Pioneer agreed that Pioneer was under earning and recommended additional KUSF support. A hearing is scheduled for January 15-16, 2002. If the Commission approves the settlement, the hearing will be cancelled.

Lifeline - Docket No. 00-GIMT-910-GIT

The Commission opened this generic docket to investigate the Lifeline Service Program and methods to ensure awareness of the program. The Lifeline Service Program provides assistance for low income families by providing a credit to reduce the amount due on the local phone bill.

In Docket No. 98-SWBT-677-GIT, SWBT made a commitment of $250,000 to promote the Lifeline program. Staff and SWBT met several times to determine the best use for that money. A campaign was established to increase awareness about Lifeline. Participation by both Sprint/United and SWBT resulted in a 50 percent increase in Lifeline participation in these combined territories.

The generic docket remains open to review whether to increase lifeline support because of the local rate increases resulting from Docket No. 01-GIMT-082-GIT and also to monitor the results of the promotional effort and determine what, if any, future action needs be taken.

Telecommunications Relay Services (“TRS”)

The Commission established TRS for Kansas in 1989 with creation of the Kansas Relay Center (“KRC”) under the auspices of Kansas Relay Services, Inc. (“KRSI”).

SWBT was the successful initial bidder. It established the KRC in Lawrence, Kansas, to provide this service. SWBT also won the next competitive bid and currently holds the contract to provide TRS in Kansas. That contract is due to be replaced and four competitive bids are being evaluated by a committee. The committee recommendation will be presented to KRSI for approval and a recommendation will be made to the Commission in the first quarter, 2002. The new contract shall be executed and the service provider in place during the second quarter, 2002.

Initially funded by an assessment on all intrastate toll providers in Kansas, funding for TRS is now incorporated into the KUSF and part of the assessment upon all intrastate telecommunications revenues. This is a more equitable method of assessment.

Delinquent Contributors to the KUSF

K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 66-2008(b) requires that all telecommunications carriers, public utilities and wireless providers that provide intrastate telecommunications services to contribute to the KUSF. The KUSF administrator is required to collect past due assessments to the KUSF and is authorized to take action to collect them. The Commission has addressed delinquent carrier issues in several dockets. As a result, the Commission has collected outstanding monies owed by delinquent carriers. The Commission has also canceled the certificates to do business in Kansas for numerous delinquent telecommunications carriers.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

Competition

As of October 1, 2001, the Commission has authorized 161 Competitive Local Exchange Carriers ("CLECs") to provide local telephone service in the exchanges of SWBT and Sprint/United.

Last year, approximately 30 CLECs were operating in Kansas. At least 9 of those were facilities based providers, while the remaining resold the services of the Incumbent LEC ("ILEC"). The Commission obtained this information to ascertain that SWBT met the requirements of section 271 of the Federal Act. Companies will be required to report this information in their Annual Reports to the Commission, but current data is not available.

The number of interexchange (long distance or toll) service providers authorized to offer intrastate service in Kansas was 451 as of October 1, 2001.

Eligible Telecommunications Carrier ("ETC") - Dockets No. 99-GCCZ-156-ETC and 99-SSLC-173-ETC

Two wireless carriers, GCC License Corporation d/b/a Western Wireless ("Western Wireless") and Sprint Spectrum, L.P. d/b/a Sprint PCS ("Sprint PCS") filed applications with the Commission seeking designation as an ETC. These carriers were seeking this designation to qualify for universal service support from both the KUSF and the federal universal service fund. The Commission identified issues and established a procedural schedule. Parties filed testimony, comments and briefs and hearings were held.

On January 18, 2000, a Commission order designated these two wireless companies as ETCs for federal universal service support in specifically identified service areas of SWBT. In an order on reconsideration the Commission designated these wireless companies as ETCs in the service areas of SWBT and Sprint/United for state universal service support.

The Commission held hearings on May 9 and 10, 2000, to determine whether it is in the public interest to designate additional ETCs in rural service territories, which for federal purposes includes the service territories of Sprint/United. In its May 19, 2000, order, the Commission established a rebuttable presumption that designating additional ETCs in rural areas is in the public interest. The Commission directed Western Wireless to file the details of its basic universal service offering, including the price and terms of the offering, and a copy of the customer service agreement. The Commission permitted any rural telephone company in an exchange in which Western Wireless was requesting ETC status to file a specific and detailed statement as to why it is not in the public interest for Western Wireless to be designated an ETC in its service territory.

Annual Legislative Report

Western Wireless filed the details of its basic universal service offering on July 25, 2000. In response, the fifteen affected rural telephone companies filed a combined opposition to the basic universal service offering of Western Wireless. On April 26, 2001, the fifteen rural telephone companies, Western Wireless and Staff filed a joint motion to alter the procedural schedule, cancel the hearing and permit the parties to file Proposed Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law. The KCC granted that motion on April 30, 2001.

The parties made the filings each deemed appropriate. In an October 12, 2001 order, the Commission determined Western Wireless should be designated as an additional ETC in the service areas of the fifteen rural telephone companies for both federal and Kansas universal service support purposes.

Commercial Mobile Radio Service ("CMRS")

On November 3, 2000, the two rural Kansas telephone associations, the State Independent Alliance ("SIA") and the Independent Telecommunications Group ("ITG"), filed petitions with the FCC seeking a ruling that the Western Wireless basic universal service in Kansas is not a CMRS offering and that federal law does not preempt or otherwise prohibit the state from applying Kansas regulations and Universal Service Fund ("USF") requirements generally applicable to all local exchange carriers and to ETCs in Kansas. This issue is pending before the FCC.

Nonrecurring Charges for Unbundled Network Elements ("UNEs") - Docket No. 97-SCCC-149-GIT

As a result of the 1996 Federal Telecommunications Act, the State Act, orders by the FCC and this Commission, and specific related court proceedings, the Public Switched Telephone Network ("PSTN") has been broken into basic operational elements referred to as UNEs. The purpose of this unbundling is to enable emerging CLECs to purchase only those elements needed to serve their customers.

On November 3, 2000, the Commission issued an order which established the nonrecurring rates for SWBT's UNEs. These rates replace the interim rates set earlier in this same proceeding and conclude the review of over one hundred cost studies from SWBT and AT&T. Predictable UNE rates are necessary to enable competitors to develop their business plans.

Additional Network Unbundling - Docket No. 01-GIMT-032-GIT

On July 21, 2000, the Commission initiated an investigation into issues surrounding Digital Subscriber Line ("DSL") services, UNEs and related matters. DSL services make use of traditional subscriber lines with the addition of specialized electronics at the customer's premises and the telephone company's central office. This combination provides high speed data service to qualified locations. The actual speeds vary: downstream (to the end user) speeds are as high as 6Mbps; upstream (from the end user) speeds are as high as 640 Kbps.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

To overcome the normal 12,000 foot distance limitation of DSL, SWBT has developed and begun to deploy a next generation architecture under the project name Pronto. Pronto extends the reach of DSL service by placing Remote Terminals, equipped with sophisticated/specialized electronics, between the telephone company central office and the end user and interconnecting the Remote Terminals to the central office with high speed fiber facilities.

During the course of the Commission's investigation in this docket, numerous complex and technical issues have been raised, including whether and, if so, how to unbundle the project Pronto architecture.

The Commission is currently considering and evaluating the voluminous record of complex issues in this docket.

Reciprocal Compensation - Docket No. 00-GIMT-1054-GIT

In this docket the Commission investigated whether reciprocal compensation should be paid for traffic destined for an Internet Service Provider ("ISP"). Reciprocal compensation refers to an arrangement between two local exchange carriers in which each carrier compensates the other for the transport and termination on the second carrier's network facilities of calls originating on the first carrier's facilities.

On December 28, 2000, the KCC entered an order finding a call to an ISP's modem should be considered a local call if the call connects to an ISP located in the same calling area as the end user who originated the call. The Commission concluded these calls were local and that the reciprocal compensation rate for local traffic contained in the interconnection agreement between the two companies would apply.

On April 27, 2001, the FCC concluded in its Order on Remand that traffic destined for an ISP was "information access" and excluded from telecommunications traffic subject to reciprocal compensation under 47 U.S.C. §251(b)(5). The FCC determined that ISP-bound traffic is predominantly interstate access traffic subject to 47 U.S.C. §201.

Collocation - Docket No. 99-SWBT-733-GIT

CLECs that switch their own services and/or offer DSL generally collocate equipment in the ILEC's central office to access the local loop. The parties to the docket reached a stipulation adopting a modified version of SWBT's proposed tariff for terms and conditions. Interim rates were approved June 14, 2000.

The Commission conducted hearings on cost and price issues to set permanent rates. After the hearing most of the parties filed a Joint Motion for approval of a Stipulation and Agreement which settled the collocation rates and added tariff sections which allow the CLECs to Do Their Own Work ("CDOW"). The other parties in the docket agreed not to oppose this stipulation. The

Annual Legislative Report

Commission approved the stipulation on November 6, 2001. The tariff makes it possible for CLECs to determine the cost they will incur to collocate in Kansas.

Consumer Protection - Docket No. 01-GIMT-649-GIT

Numerous CLECs ceased operating and/or declared bankruptcy across the country in late 2000 and early 2001. In some instances, customers were left with no telephone service, without cause or warning, through no fault of their own.

The Commission opened this docket to develop procedures to protect Kansas consumers against the loss of telephone services when a CLEC is unable to continue service to its customers for any reason. All interested parties, including the incumbent LECs and CLECs, were invited to comment.

On the basis of the comments and information from other states a proposed rule was developed and put in effect on an interim basis. Parties were requested to provide additional input. Staff is developing a final rule which will be proposed to the Commission early 2002.

Slamming

Competition in the provision of both toll and local service has provided consumers with choices of carriers and rate plans. Consumers are able to switch from one service provider to another through the local exchange carrier ("LEC") or through a telemarketing solicitation, mail, or over the internet. An unintended consequence of this has been "slamming."

Slamming is defined by the FCC as "changing a subscriber's (or consumer's) carrier selection without that subscriber's knowledge or explicit authorization." The FCC adopted rules and regulations to curb slamming and impose penalties on telecommunications carriers who commit slams. The new rules went into effect on November 28, 2000, and the Commission elected to opt in to administer these rules in Kansas.

During the applicable portion of FY 01 (December 2000 through June, 2001) the Commission received 256 slamming complaints. Staff investigates each complaint by asking for a copy of any billing received by the subscriber, requesting account information from the service provider(s), and sending a request for verification of the switch to the alleged slamming carrier. Verification may be in the form of a recording of the telemarketing call, a signed Letter of Authorization, or an internet form. Most verifications require a unique identifier such as the last four digits of a social security number or date of birth. Staff's investigation of these complaints revealed that 15 of the 256 complaints were violations of the FCC's rules.

Telemarketing Legislation - Docket No. 01-GIMT-049-GIT

Effective July 1, 2000, House Bill 2580 (codified as K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 50-675a) required the Commission to adopt rules and regulations relating to unsolicited telephone calls.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

On August 3, 2000, the Commission issued an order requesting comments and reply comments on the proposed content of those rules/regulations. After reviewing the comments of the parties, Staff drafted regulations which were submitted for review and approval pursuant to the regulation implementation process.

Following a sixty day public comment period, the Commission held a public hearing. No comments were received. The Commission adopted the regulation ("K.A.R. 82-1-250") on June 25, 2001, at an open meeting.

K.A.R. 82-1-250 required SWBT to coordinate an industry-wide forum for interested participants on or before September 1, 2001, to develop methods of complying with K.S.A. 2000 Supp. 50-675a to inform consumers of their rights and responsibilities as they pertain to telemarketers under the Kansas Consumer Protection act and two federal telemarketing acts. The statute also requires that information be disseminated to consumers on how to register for the Direct Marketing Association's Telephone Preference Service.

On August 21, 2001, an industry forum was held. On September 5, 2001, Staff filed a report on that forum and proposed two "messages" be used to disseminate the required information.

In its October 1, 2001 order, the Commission directed all Kansas local exchange carriers that publish telephone directories to include these two messages beginning with the next cycle of directory publication. The Commission further urged the industry to be proactive and use additional means, such as a bill message or a bill insert, in order to assist customers in avoiding unwanted telemarketing calls.

New Area Code - Docket No. 00-GIMT-401-GIT

On October 26, 1999, the North American Numbering Plan Administrator¹ ("NANPA") notified the Commission of its projection that the 316 area code would exhaust² in the second quarter, 2002. An Industry planning group was convened on December 16, 1999, to begin to develop a relief plan.

On January 27, 2000, the NANPA, on behalf of the Industry, filed two relief plans for the Commission's consideration and action; 1) a traditional geographical split, 2) an overlay plan. The Commission solicited comments and received considerable public input on this matter. On September 5, 2000, the Commission directed the Industry to proceed with the geographical split plan. In addition, the Commission determined that it would be in the public interest to retain the 316 code in the Wichita metropolitan area, including those surrounding localities with extended calling plans into Wichita, and to assign a new code (620) to the remaining outlying locations (e.g. Dodge City, Hutchinson, Pittsburg, etc.).

In accordance with Commission Orders, the Industry initiated a nine month (February 3, through November 2, 2001) permissive dialing period, during which the public could use either the 316 or the newly assigned 620 code when placing long distance calls to the area with the new code. On November 2, 2001, use of the 620 code became mandatory. Mis-dialed calls (calling a 620 number using the 316 area code) were intercepted and routed to an announcement informing the caller of the correct area code. The three month intercept period ended January 5, 2002.

Post 271 Performance of SWBT

The Commission opened Docket No. 01-SWBT-999-GIT to monitor SWBT's performance following 271 approval through review of actual performance as well as modifications to the performance measures and other sections of the model interconnection agreement ("K2A") which was an integral part of that authorization. The performance measures are reviewed every six (6) months in collaboration with the Texas PUC (the first state where SWBT was successful in achieving 271 approval). All five of SWBT's "core territory" states participate in the Texas proceedings.

On August 22, 2001, SWBT filed a request for approval of certain modifications to the performance remedy plan and performance measures coming out of the most recent six-month review. The Commission is currently reviewing the comments of the parties before ruling on this application.

1 The North American Numbering Plan Administrator (NANPA) is the national administrative body charged with the responsibility of administering and assigning area codes and central office codes (a/k/a exchange codes or prefixes) associated with the North American Numbering Plan (NPA-NXX-Line) in accordance with FCC directives.

2 Exhaust occurs when the number of central office codes exceed the 792 available within each area code.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

The goal of the Transportation Division is to ensure the appropriate and effective regulation and oversight of motor carriers and protect the public interest and safety through comprehensive planning, licensing and inspection.

Objectives are to develop, modify and implement the licensing, auditing, inspection and other administrative procedures designed to achieve effective and efficient operations and ease the burden of regulation while ensuring protection of the public interest and safety.

Strategies include conducting comprehensive investigations and audits on existing and new motor carriers and taking appropriate action when unsafe conditions are found, to the extent of our limited resources. Develop regulations to implement legislative changes to deal effectively with the vast array of diverse and complex issues arising out of changes at the state and federal level. Continue as an active partner with the Kansas Highway Patrol and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration in pursuing the reduction of accidents involving motor carriers through the promulgation of regulations, enforcement of those regulations and education of the industry as well as the motoring public.

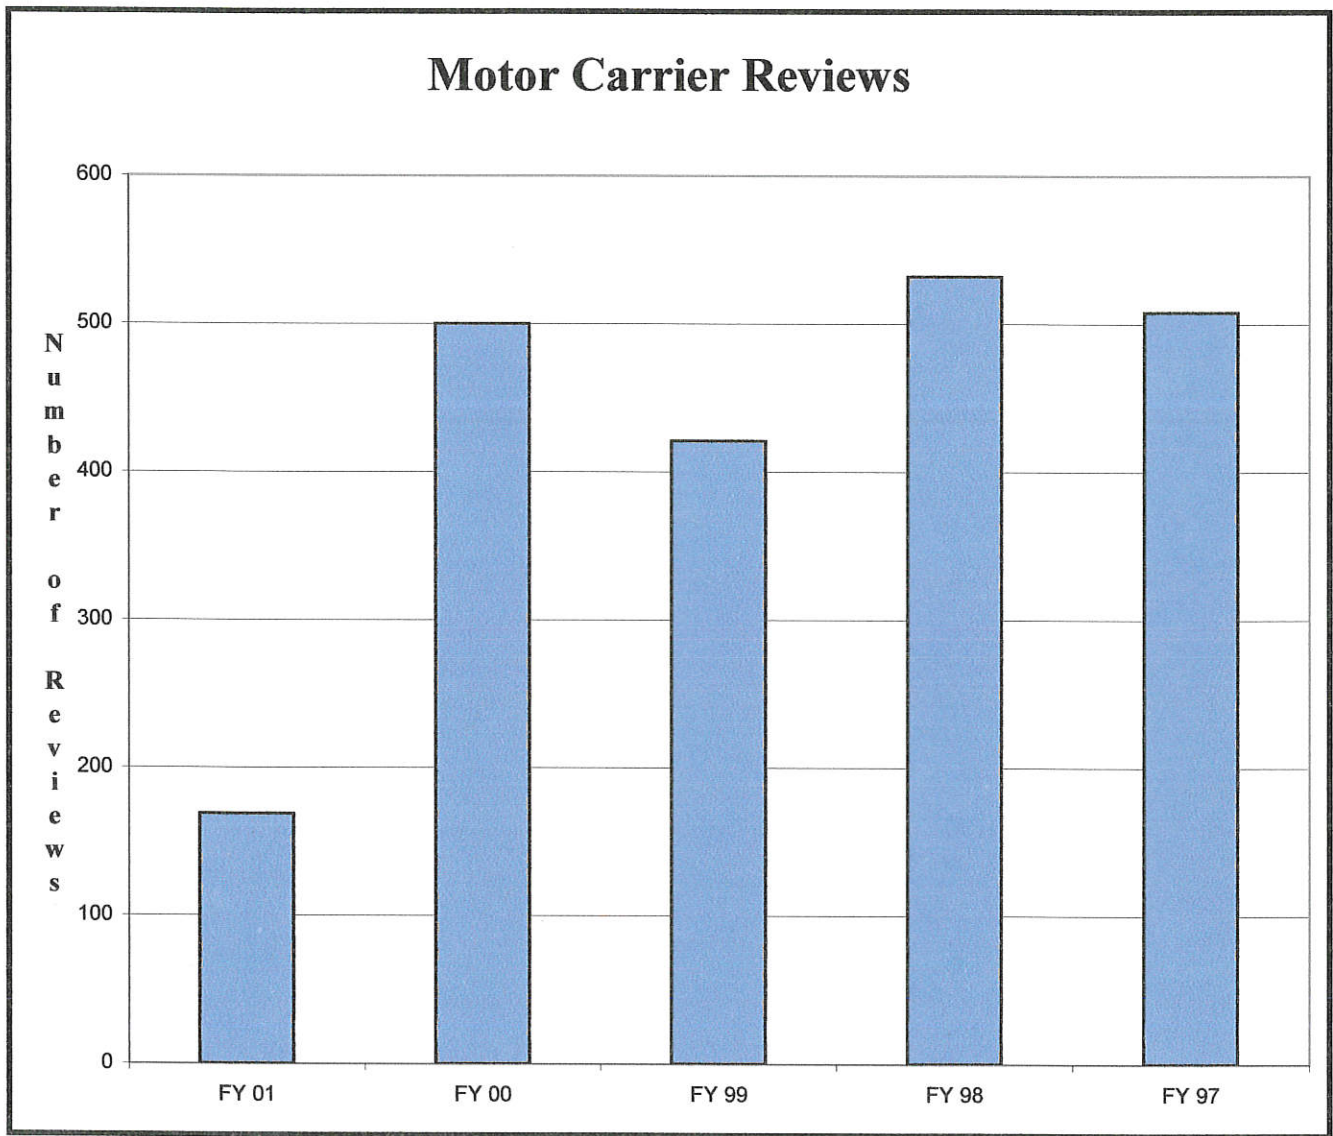

State law requires the KCC to verify within twelve months of a carrier being granted common or contract authority that it is in compliance with the commission's safety regulations. This is an attempt to keep the new carriers off SafeStat. SafeStat is the Motor Carrier Status Measurement system. It is an automated analysis system that combines current and historical safety data to measure the relative safety fitness of a motor carrier. These carriers are identified as "at risk." Specifically, the carriers identified as "at risk" have a much higher crash rate (169%). Every six months, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration publishes a list of approximately 500 carriers (Kansas based) that are identified as "at risk."

The Safety Section is targeting for enforcement those "at risk" carriers to the extent we can with our current resources. The Safety Section has focused more on in depth comprehensive reviews than in years past. All Special Investigators attended an intensive 80-hour course to insure the compliance reviews they perform are uniform with other state safety sections and our federal counterparts. The Special Investigators conduct educational safety seminars throughout the state several times per month. This effort is designed to inform and educate new motor carriers. We will offer the program to include any motor carrier who needs or wants a "refresher" on safety regulations. Motor carriers are notified of meeting dates at the time of application for KCC authority or through public service announcements in regional newspapers.

The Commission has been receiving and compiling statistical tables on Kansas' railroad accident reports since 1883. Kansas statutes require all Kansas railroads to file a copy of any and all railroad incidents occurring in Kansas which are reportable to the Department of Transportation, Federal Railroad Administration, Washington, D.C. The State of Kansas currently has 5,199 main line track miles and approximately 6,000 grade crossings.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

In 2001 the Safety Section of the Transportation Division reestablished its Railroad Safety and Inspection Program. Objectives are to develop, modify and implement inspection procedures that will comply with State and Federal regulations. During the last half of FY 2001, the five Motor Carrier Special Investigators and the Public Service Administer received an intensive 80-hour training course in Highway/Rail Grade Crossing Safety and Inspection Procedures. The Investigators were also certified as Operation Lifesaver presenters. This is the first time railroad inspections have occurred since FY 1999. The Transportation Division's goal is to eliminate railroad accidents through participation in Operation Lifesaver and the continued education of the motoring public.

TRANSPORTATION

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

The goal of the Transportation Division is to ensure the appropriate and effective regulation and oversight of motor carriers and protect the public interest and safety through comprehensive planning, licensing and inspection.

Objectives are to develop, modify and implement the licensing, auditing, inspection and other administrative procedures designed to achieve effective and efficient operations and ease the burden of regulation while ensuring protection of the public interest and safety.

Strategies include conducting comprehensive investigations and audits on existing and new motor carriers and taking appropriate action when unsafe conditions are found, to the extent of our limited resources. Develop regulations to implement legislative changes to deal effectively with the vast array of diverse and complex issues arising out of changes at the state and federal level. Continue as an active partner with the Kansas Highway Patrol and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration in pursuing the reduction of accidents involving motor carriers through the promulgation of regulations, enforcement of those regulations and education of the industry as well as the motoring public.

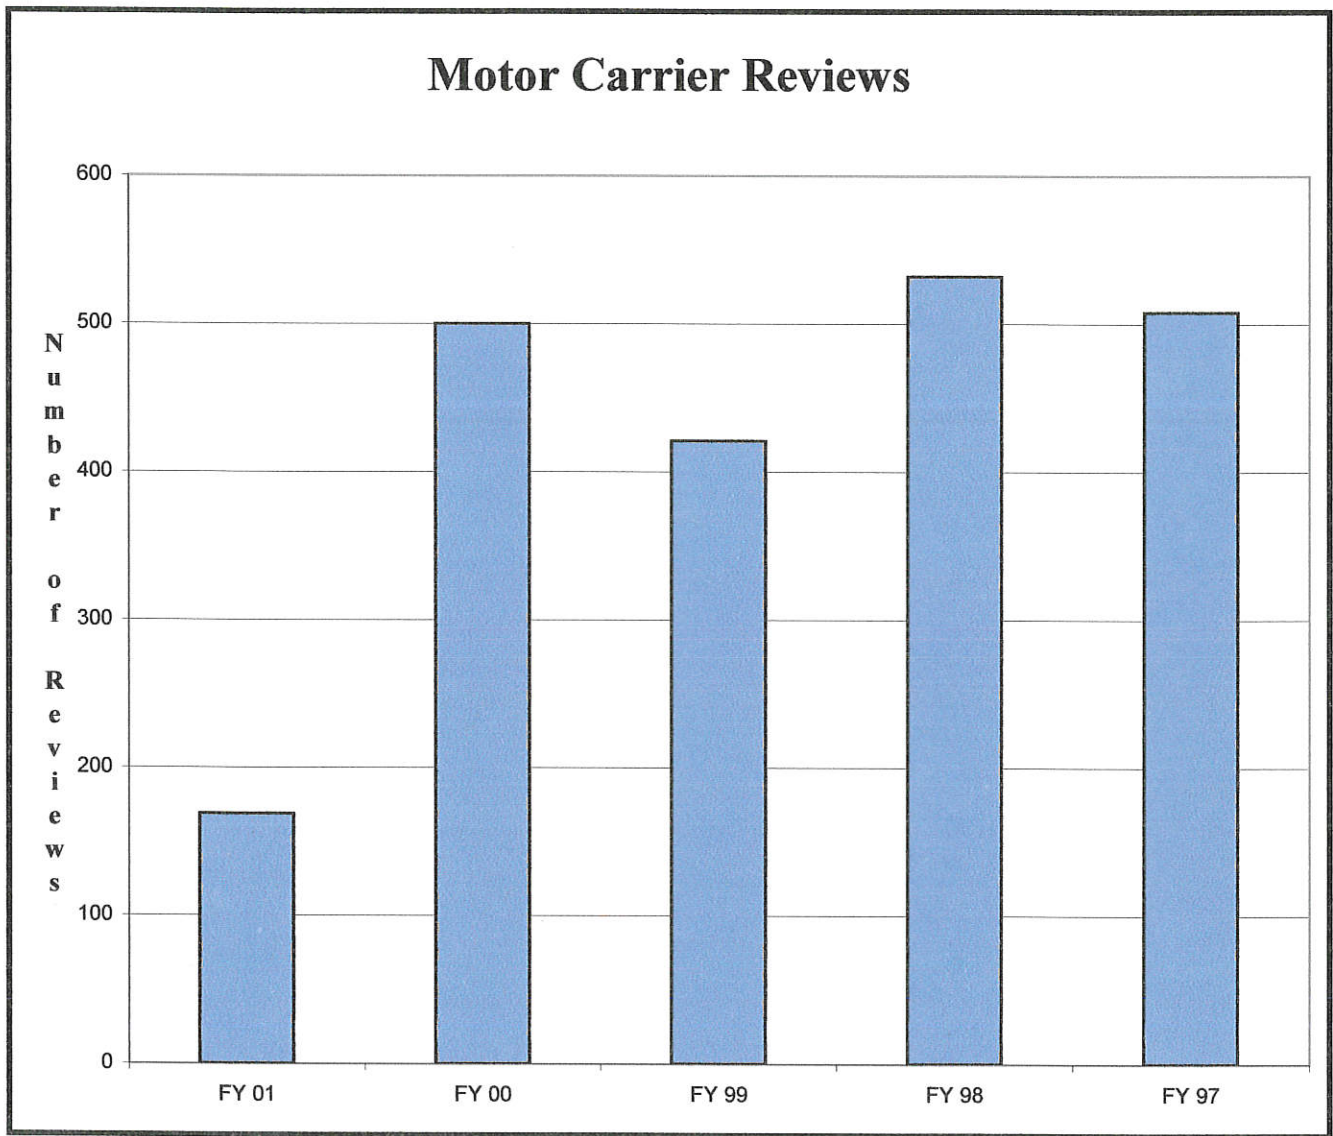

State law requires the KCC to verify within twelve months of a carrier being granted common or contract authority that it is in compliance with the commission's safety regulations. This is an attempt to keep the new carriers off SafeStat. SafeStat is the Motor Carrier Status Measurement system. It is an automated analysis system that combines current and historical safety data to measure the relative safety fitness of a motor carrier. These carriers are identified as "at risk." Specifically, the carriers identified as "at risk" have a much higher crash rate (169%). Every six months, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration publishes a list of approximately 500 carriers (Kansas based) that are identified as "at risk."

The Safety Section is targeting for enforcement those "at risk" carriers to the extent we can with our current resources. The Safety Section has focused more on in depth comprehensive reviews than in years past. All Special Investigators attended an intensive 80-hour course to insure the compliance reviews they perform are uniform with other state safety sections and our federal counterparts. The Special Investigators conduct educational safety seminars throughout the state several times per month. This effort is designed to inform and educate new motor carriers. We will offer the program to include any motor carrier who needs or wants a "refresher" on safety regulations. Motor carriers are notified of meeting dates at the time of application for KCC authority or through public service announcements in regional newspapers.

The Commission has been receiving and compiling statistical tables on Kansas' railroad accident reports since 1883. Kansas statutes require all Kansas railroads to file a copy of any and all railroad incidents occurring in Kansas which are reportable to the Department of Transportation, Federal Railroad Administration, Washington, D.C. The State of Kansas currently has 5,199 main line track miles and approximately 6,000 grade crossings.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

In 2001 the Safety Section of the Transportation Division reestablished its Railroad Safety and Inspection Program. Objectives are to develop, modify and implement inspection procedures that will comply with State and Federal regulations. During the last half of FY 2001, the five Motor Carrier Special Investigators and the Public Service Administer received an intensive 80-hour training course in Highway/Rail Grade Crossing Safety and Inspection Procedures. The Investigators were also certified as Operation Lifesaver presenters. This is the first time railroad inspections have occurred since FY 1999. The Transportation Division's goal is to eliminate railroad accidents through participation in Operation Lifesaver and the continued education of the motoring public.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

The goal of the Transportation Division is to ensure the appropriate and effective regulation and oversight of motor carriers and protect the public interest and safety through comprehensive planning, licensing and inspection.

Objectives are to develop, modify and implement the licensing, auditing, inspection and other administrative procedures designed to achieve effective and efficient operations and ease the burden of regulation while ensuring protection of the public interest and safety.

Strategies include conducting comprehensive investigations and audits on existing and new motor carriers and taking appropriate action when unsafe conditions are found, to the extent of our limited resources. Develop regulations to implement legislative changes to deal effectively with the vast array of diverse and complex issues arising out of changes at the state and federal level. Continue as an active partner with the Kansas Highway Patrol and the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration in pursuing the reduction of accidents involving motor carriers through the promulgation of regulations, enforcement of those regulations and education of the industry as well as the motoring public.

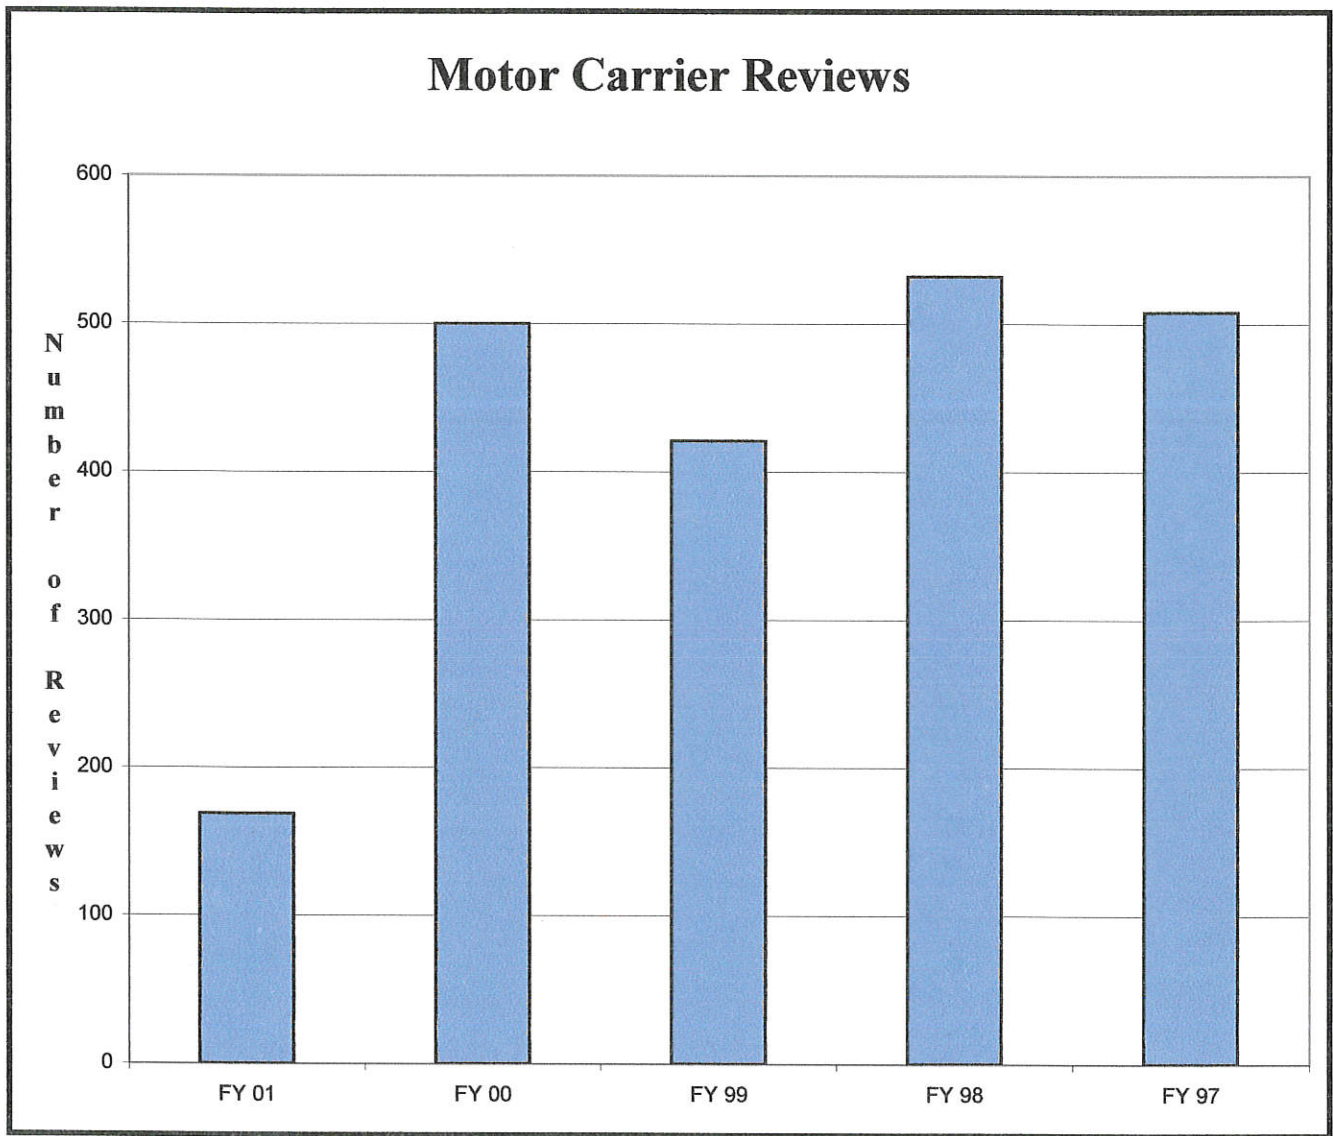

State law requires the KCC to verify within twelve months of a carrier being granted common or contract authority that it is in compliance with the commission's safety regulations. This is an attempt to keep the new carriers off SafeStat. SafeStat is the Motor Carrier Status Measurement system. It is an automated analysis system that combines current and historical safety data to measure the relative safety fitness of a motor carrier. These carriers are identified as "at risk." Specifically, the carriers identified as "at risk" have a much higher crash rate (169%). Every six months, the Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration publishes a list of approximately 500 carriers (Kansas based) that are identified as "at risk."

The Safety Section is targeting for enforcement those "at risk" carriers to the extent we can with our current resources. The Safety Section has focused more on in depth comprehensive reviews than in years past. All Special Investigators attended an intensive 80-hour course to insure the compliance reviews they perform are uniform with other state safety sections and our federal counterparts. The Special Investigators conduct educational safety seminars throughout the state several times per month. This effort is designed to inform and educate new motor carriers. We will offer the program to include any motor carrier who needs or wants a "refresher" on safety regulations. Motor carriers are notified of meeting dates at the time of application for KCC authority or through public service announcements in regional newspapers.

The Commission has been receiving and compiling statistical tables on Kansas' railroad accident reports since 1883. Kansas statutes require all Kansas railroads to file a copy of any and all railroad incidents occurring in Kansas which are reportable to the Department of Transportation, Federal Railroad Administration, Washington, D.C. The State of Kansas currently has 5,199 main line track miles and approximately 6,000 grade crossings.

KANSAS CORPORATION COMMISSION
Annual Legislative Report

In 2001 the Safety Section of the Transportation Division reestablished its Railroad Safety and Inspection Program. Objectives are to develop, modify and implement inspection procedures that will comply with State and Federal regulations. During the last half of FY 2001, the five Motor Carrier Special Investigators and the Public Service Administer received an intensive 80-hour training course in Highway/Rail Grade Crossing Safety and Inspection Procedures. The Investigators were also certified as Operation Lifesaver presenters. This is the first time railroad inspections have occurred since FY 1999. The Transportation Division's goal is to eliminate railroad accidents through participation in Operation Lifesaver and the continued education of the motoring public.

“A New Horizon”
Kansas Postsecondary Education Planning Study:
Governance and Missions

REPORT SUMMARY

With the passage of Senate Bill 345 in 1999, the Kansas Legislature reconstituted the state's public postsecondary education system. SB 345 altered the scope of responsibility and authority for the Kansas Board of Regents by legislatively placing the community colleges and the technical institutions within its purview and expanding its mission to encompass coordination for all of higher education in the state. Henceforth, the Board of Regents would govern some institutions, supervise some, and interface with others, while it would coordinate all of them.

This report was commissioned to assist the Board with the transition. The emphasis is on the first goal of the Regents' “Plan for the Coordination of Postsecondary Education,” which calls for a review of the mission and roles of the four sectors of public postsecondary education (technical institutions, community colleges, state universities, and Washburn University) and for recommendations for improvements to the postsecondary education system that may be achieved from a restructuring of governance and administrative entities.

The study was conducted during the summer, 2001. The approach included visits with representatives of each postsecondary education institution, during which it became apparent that three topics constituted major issues:

1. The governance, coordinative, and supervisory roles of the Kansas Board of Regents, its relationships with the sectors and institutions, including Washburn University and the community colleges and the technical institutions, and organizing for the post SB 345 task.
2. Economic development, workforce preparation, and, particularly, how the reorganized community colleges and technical institutions could be more fully utilized to tackle the associated responsibilities. And,
3. Institutional and sector roles and missions in a newly forming higher education context.

The report contends that the Board has two major governance options in this new setting. Each involves different methods and relationships. The first is to move in the direction of greater centralization and consolidation. This would entail continued use of the tools that typically have characterized coordination and governance in Kansas and elsewhere for the past thirty years or so – comparatively fixed mission assignments, central program review and approval, institutional geographic service areas, regulatory policies to limit competition and duplication, standardized budget formulae and allocation models, quality defined by appropriations, and an emphasis on providers as distinct from customers.

Such approaches define the 'administrative' model, a model based on principles of centralized management and, in the jargon of the trade, regulatory coordination.

This is the model that many in the colleges and universities of Kansas are most concerned about as the Board of Regents works to implement the changes authorized by SB 345. While technically it is an option for the Regents, and, in fact, it may be the one that ultimately devolves, it is not the one that best fits the objective circumstances of higher education's contemporary setting. Indeed, many observers of the present dynamics of higher education in this country are uneasy about its continued effectiveness and believe it is no longer suited to an environment shaped by such imperatives as economic growth and development, competing social demands for limited public resources, an accent on performance, expectations of previously underserved citizens, availability of education technologies, and a presence of nonpublic competitors. The list could continue, but the depth of the incongruity between the problem and the traditional solutions would only increase.

Beyond this, this model is probably not the best one for a system composed of the variety of authority and funding arrangements that exists in Kansas. The application of such a regulatory coordination model would involve dislocations in structures and relationships that are familiar in Kansas, and it would require substantial increases in state funding for additional staff at all levels to make it work. At least equally important, it would require a change in the funding balance to one that was substantially or entirely state-based at a time when other priorities are asserting demands on the state's resources. The political tasks associated with involuntary changes in governance relationships would be difficult and debilitating.

The other option for the Regents is to establish and maintain a clear and coherent policy framework and rely on delegation, budgets, and accountability measures to ensure the policies are being pursued and the goals accomplished. In this case, the Board would operate as a "Policy" board, as distinct from an "Administrative" or "Regulatory" board, and within that framework establish and maintain a relationship of shared responsibility with all of the sectors. This model entails a replacement of the conventional reactive approach with one that is considerably more proactive.

More specifically, this management model involves a delegation of as much executive responsibility as reasonable to the institutional or district levels within a policy framework established and maintained by the Board. The delegation would be predicated on and accompanied by a system of contractual accountability, based on implementation or performance agreements keyed to budgets and budget cycles.

Such a model is both feasible and in alignment with the important elements of organization management that are finding their way into higher education. It also may be the only workable option at this point in Kansas' history.

The recommendations of the report feature this as the preferred approach. The two other considerations of importance -- workforce preparation and sector mission clarification -- are addressed with recommendations that fit within the overall policy board framework.

The principal recommendation is that the Board of Regents should constitute itself as a policy board for the Kansas Higher Education System. This role should stress policy leadership and the exercise of coordination functions on the part of the Board and delegation of responsibility for most aspects of management and administration to the institutions that constitute the system. Other recommendations align with this preamble.

1. The Board of Regents should provide policy leadership for the higher education system and delegate or entrust management responsibility to the institutions in the system. This delegation should be accompanied by accountability provisions that include institutional implementation agreements or contracts, performance benchmarks, and fiscal and academic audits to ensure that the institutions are operating in accordance with Board policies.
2. The receipt of state funds should obligate an institution to follow state policy.
3. The relationship should build upon the block operating grant and tuition ownership initiatives. Institutions would exercise this authority within the parameters of a Board of Regents' policy framework.
4. The Board should pursue similar relationships with all of the institutional components of the public higher education system.
5. The six state universities should be excused from such centralized administrative requirements as printing, personnel, and prior architectural review.
6. The Board of Regents should be the central point of contact with the Governor and Legislature on matters of higher education policy.
7. The Legislature should be asked to eliminate the three-commission aspect of SB 345 and authorize the Board to organize itself in the manner it deems appropriate.
8. The assignment of Board staff to routine administrative tasks, as opposed to tasks associated with the Board's policy role, should be the exception rather than the rule.
9. The need for centralized program approval for program initiatives that fit within sector and institutional missions in view of the managerial model described in previous recommendations should be reconsidered.
10. The Board should abandon the concept of 'supervise' with respect to those institutions that were previously under the administrative authority of the State Board of Education.
11. The Board should take the necessary steps to bring Washburn University into the State University System in a relationship similar to that recommended for the other state universities.
12. The Board should seek authority for the state universities that do not presently receive tax support from their local counties to gain such support to a level and in a manner similar to the Wichita State University experience.
13. Work being devoted to the development of a statewide higher education data system should be vigorously encouraged and adequately funded.

14. The transfer of credit issue should become a permanent agenda item at the meetings of the appropriate inter-institutional committees and Regent task forces. The independent institutions should be invited to participate in these conversations.
15. A review of Kansas' pricing and student assistance programs is imperative and should be treated as a high priority.
16. A comprehensive assessment of Kansas' approach to higher education funding should be conducted as soon as possible.
17. The Board should assume a leadership role with respect to the state's job training and economic growth and development efforts by serving as the convener of regular meetings of a "Job Training and Economic Growth and Development Roundtable" composed of agency and organization representatives from all of the interested official parties.
18. The community colleges and technical institutions should be consolidated into a single state Community and Technical College System under the Board of Regents.
19. The Board of Regents' relationships with the community and technical colleges should follow the model recommended for the state universities.
20. Several community college funding options are available for consideration. One involves full funding by the state through a statewide equalization program with a local enrichment option for the home county. State assumption of the preponderance of funding through continuation of the property tax buy down program begun with the passage of SB 345 is another alternative. A third option centers on a gradual approach through local affiliations and mergers. Such funding options should be included in the Board's projected postsecondary education funding study.
21. The Board should review the community college service areas, redrawing and reconstituting them as community college districts or higher education planning districts.
22. Technical institutions should be designated "colleges," allowed to provide general education services to their students, and offer the AAS and technical college transfer degrees.
23. Consideration should be given to the creation of a "Kansas Occupation Education Information System."
24. The Board should consider distinctive missions for the public universities within the following institutional types: The University of Kansas, Kansas State University are Doctoral-Granting Research Universities; Wichita State University is an Urban Doctoral-Granting Research University; Washburn University is a Comprehensive Urban University; Pittsburg State, Fort Hays State, and Emporia State University are Comprehensive Regional Universities.

25. The present university service areas should be redrawn or eliminated.
26. As a general rule, except for selected specialized programs, state universities should not offer Associate degrees. Those programs presently provided should be turned over in a phased manner to the state community and technical college system. The phasing process should allow present students to complete their programs in a timely manner.
27. The Board should seek elimination of policies preventing the delivery of community college services in counties with four-year institutions.
28. The Board should consider the establishment of a Regents' Center in southwestern Kansas.
29. The community colleges and technical institutions of Kansas should be 'open door' institutions and serve as the principal points of access to higher education.
30. The roles and missions of community colleges located in rural settings should be guided by the concept of "Regional or Community Higher Education Center."
31. Consideration should be given to the use of tuition as a means to attract students to Kansas as part of the state's economic growth and development programs.

Testimony to
Senate Commerce Committee
February 5, 2002

Good Morning, Madame Chair and Committee Members:

Welcome Back. Over this summer, I have had opportunities to visit with several of you but I'd like to take a few minutes to refresh our acquaintance.

My name is Barb Reavis. I provide staff support to a statewide advisory board, the Workforce Network of Kansas Board. This is the group formerly known as the Kansas Workforce Investment Partnership. Senators Brownlee and Barone are members of that Board. In the House, Representatives Lane and Ruff are members of the Board. I am also responsible to assist with the coordination of workforce development activities in Kansas. That structure, as you may remember, consists of six state agencies, administering 30 individual programs. Five separate local governing boards direct services in a number of federally funded programs.

To bring neutrality to the work, my position is in the Office of the Governor. The part of my working history that prepared me for this work comes from spending over ten years as the Executive of the United Way of Douglas County. I learned quite a bit there about bringing diverse values and backgrounds together around common goals. We continue to hope that experience will serve well the State of Kansas in my position as Workforce Policy Liaison.

A few themes of concern have emerged since the last legislative session. Of primary concern, I believe, are these:

- What is workforce development?
- What are we getting for our money?
- Who is in charge?
- Where is the money being spent?

I think you will be pleased that I have answers today for some of those questions. Let me address them in that order.

What is workforce development? Attached to this testimony is a definition agreed to in January by the members of the Kansas Interagency Resource Network for Workforce Development (KIRNWD). That definition reads:

Activities that increase employment, retention, earnings, and occupational skill attainment to improve the quality and self-sufficiency of the Kansas workforce and to enhance the productivity and competitiveness of the State and National economies.

After discussion, members of that group felt providing the list of possible activities might aid understanding the breadth of possibilities. Members were concerned about how to delineate between activities included here and others that might sound the same but be very different. For example, "transportation" in the broader sense might include the highway plan. In this context it could mean a voucher for gasoline to get a client to training, car repairs to help a welfare parent to get to that new job or bus tickets to go to GED testing. Although these are all very different types of services as they apply to workforce development, they have a common goal--getting the client prepared to work or to the workplace.

This wording and the accompanying list were considered and adopted by the Workforce Network of Kansas Board on January 24 at its regularly scheduled meeting.

What are we getting for our money? The list you just saw is not a list of results; it is simply a list of possible activities. Because of federal or state legislation or regulation, each funding stream has its own goals and set of allowable expenditures. Federal legislation usually is accompanied with negotiated performance standards. For example, the Workforce Investment Act mandates seventeen measures. Those include things like numbers of people entering employment, rate of employment retention, earnings change, rate of credentialing or diploma achievement and customer satisfaction. Meeting or exceeding the negotiated measures within that program will typically bring incentive monies to Kansas. Failure to reach the negotiated measures means no additional monies and, over time, possible sanctions of less money or no money from that program.

Currently a list of comprehensive goals and outcomes does not exist that crosses all employment and training program lines. The Workforce Network of Kansas Leadership Team has begun work on that very effort. By the end of this calendar year, I expect a set of strategic objectives and indicators will exist for workforce development in our state.

Who is in charge? Is there one person “in charge” of workforce development? No. Several programs with similar goals are concentrated within Divisions of six state agencies. Referring now to the second attachment, you will see a spreadsheet. You may remember a version of this spreadsheet from last year.

Each agency has specific responsibilities associated with its mission. For example, although both agencies have programs dealing with employment and training, the mission of the Department of Human Resources is very different than the mission of the Department of Commerce and Housing. The mission of KDHR reads, “cultivates a job ready workforce and a workplace environment to fuel economic growth for Kansas.” The mission of Commerce and Housing, however, reads, “to provide leadership to ensure economic opportunity for Kansas.” That doesn’t mean any program within either agency is more or less vital than the other. It does mean they are designed to serve the State differently and toward a slightly different end.

There has been some discussion and preliminary speculation about combining all workforce development programs within one agency. The establishment of a Department of Workforce Development may not be a good answer to concerns about perceived duplication. The legislation and regulations are such that each program will still exist within a silo, even if the work is concentrated under one roof. The welfare parent who gets employment and training services at that new department will still need to receive income maintenance and food stamp assistance at another location. The business customer who receives a KIT or KIR grant from that new department would still need to turn elsewhere for help with national marketing or business finance.

The need to coordinate services won't be eliminated by putting them under one roof. Before such an alteration in the delivery of services would be undertaken, a complete picture must be drawn of what real difference that change will make for the customers and whether efficiencies will be realized or whether responsibilities and referrals will just be shifted. The heads of these agencies were scheduled to meet last Wednesday, January 30--snow day. We are currently trying to find another date to accommodate all those schedules.

Where is the money being spent? In its final report from its summer work, the Joint Committee on Economic Development concluded the 1997 report from the National Conference of State Legislators report was inaccurate by asserting $400 million is spent in Kansas each year on workforce development.

Referring again to the spreadsheet attachment, the six state agencies with employment and training programs have provided updated fiscal information. You will see those figures under Column D. The totals for 2002 are very similar to 2001. Many of the figures are projected and not yet finalized. Comments on some of the items appear in narrative form following the spreadsheet.

Thank you for your time. I will be happy to try to answer questions or take your comments and guidance.

Workforce Development--The Working Definition

Activities that increase employment, retention, earnings, and occupational skill attainment to improve the quality and self-sufficiency of the Kansas workforce and to enhance the productivity and competitiveness of the State and National economies.

Testimony to the Kansas Senate Commerce Committee
February 5, 2002

Madam Chair and Members of the Committee:

My name is Kris Kitchen. I am the Executive Director of Heartland Works. Heartland Works is a private not-for-profit business that administers the federally funded WORKFORCE INVESTMENT ACT (WIA), WELFARE-TO-WORK (WtW) programs and is the One-Stop Operator in the seventeen county area of Northeast, Kansas, also known as Local Area II. I report to the Local Area II Workforce Investment Board and Chief Elected Officials.

I have been working with employment and training programs for seventeen years, the past 4 years as Executive Director of Heartland Works.

Today I would like to talk about the Partnerships and Challenges of a One-Stop center from a local perspective.

Consistently, we hear that in order to meet the needs of our ever-changing economy, we must prepare our workers with the skills they need to enter the workforce successfully. The partnerships created under the Workforce Investment Act among employers, community organizations, youth providers and educators are important to ensure these skills are taught successfully. The WIA legislation describes in detail, a fully integrated, seamless process whereby information about, and access to, a wide array of job training, education and employment services are available to all customers in a single location. This system benefits job seekers and employers by providing services that are universally accessible and customer driven. The One-Stop system performance is maximized through management efficiencies, duplication reduction, and use of customer feed back
