

Educational Stability for Teens Awaiting Placement

How HB 2320 closes a gap for youth in foster care

When a teen is awaiting placement, their school experience shouldn't be left in limbo.

HB 2320 addresses a practical gap that can make enrollment unclear during short-term, temporary arrangements—right when consistency matters most.

When Placement Is Temporary, School Becomes Uncertain

 Current Situation	✗ Placement Disruption	Placement Disruption ✓	 With HB 2320
	✗ Temporary / Interim Care	Interim Care ✓
	✗ Enrollment Delayed or Denied	Immediate School Enrollment ✓
	✗ Missed School + Learning Gaps	Stable Education While Placement Is Identified ✓

As days turn into weeks, missed class time and growing gaps in learning begin to accumulate.

HB 2320 keeps education moving forward while placement decisions are being made. It allows enrollment based on where a youth is receiving consistent daily support, reducing avoidable delays and helping schools start services and instruction without waiting for placement to be finalized.
