

2023 Kansas Statutes

44-402. Private employment agencies; license required; fees; duration of license. (a) No person may open, operate or maintain any business performing any private employment agency activities or service without first obtaining a private employment agency license from the state department of labor. The annual fee for the license shall be $25. Every license shall contain the city, street and building number of the location where the licensee conducts the licensee's employment agency. The license, together with a copy of this act, shall be posted in a conspicuous place in each employment agency.

(b) A license issued pursuant to this act shall expire one year after its issuance. A license may be renewed upon application and payment of the annual fee not less than 30 days prior to the expiration of the license.
