Regulatory Certainty Encourages Investment

Support HB 2326 to Protect Internet Protocol (IP)-based services from regulation

In the 1980s, the Kansas Legislature passed laws protecting wireless communications from state regulation (KSA 66-104a) and as a result that industry has been an extraordinary success.

HB 2326 will provide similar protection to IP-based services – allowing this industry to continue on its rapid growth path.

Investment dollars are pouring into these technologies. Passing HB 2326 provides the regulatory certainty companies need to continue to invest in Kansas.

Passage of HB 2326 ensures that the Legislature sets policy - not a regulatory agency.

26 states have passed similar legislation and many more are considering proposals now.
