

My Testimonial

I am just like every other high schooler but I am not like every other high schooler. I look like a normal kid; I go to school like every kid but I just learn different. In the second grade I got diagnosed with the learning disability Dyslexia. My mom noticed I was not learning as fast as the other kids in my class and got concerned. She heard of a small establishment called The Fundamental Learning Center. After going through a couple of test they told my mom I didn't learn in a traditional way in a school classroom. I am one out of few kids that got lucky to find out at a young age that I have a learning disability. Finding this out I had to cope with dyslexia because it cannot be fixed. Going to a private tutor was the key to my educational success. Going to my private tutor I was able to decode words and comprehend what I was learning. I have learned how to be an advocate for myself in every classroom. I am not ashamed of it because it made me who I am today. My learning disability taught me to work hard for what I want. Nothing is going to come easy.
