HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES,
TOPEKA, KS, Tuesday, April 3, 2018, 10:00 a.m.

The House met pursuant to adjournment with Speaker Ryckman in the chair.

The roll was called with 123 members present.

Reps. Carlin and Schwab were excused on excused absence by the Speaker.

Present later: Rep. Schwab.

Prayer by guest chaplain, Pastor Kyle Borg, Reformed Presbyterian Church, Winchester, and guest of Rep. Ellis.

O God of Grace,
This morning I direct my heart to you as Lord of heaven earth,
You uphold the world by the power of your Word,
You direct the footsteps of each person according to your counsel,
You influence even the heart of the king which is in your hand.
Your goodness is from the rising of the sun to the setting of the same,
Displayed in every corner of creation,
Manifest in every good thing,
And expressed in the governments and authority you have appointed.
O Lord, grant to this legislative body today the company of your favor,
Grant knowledge to discern,
Grant wisdom to govern,
Grant equity to establish,
Grant mercy to succeed,
Grant humility to prosper,
And grant, O Lord, your glory to triumph that all may know you are Lord.
From you I ask these things not because they are deserved or earned, but Because you are gracious and kind,
Because you are patient and long-suffering,
Because you are slow to anger and abounding in love.
From you, O Father, I ask this in the name of Jesus Christ, the King of kings, and Lord of lords. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Rep. Davis.

Rep. Gartner presented the team with a framed House certificate in honor of their achievement.

INTRODUCTION OF GUESTS

There being no objection, the following remarks of Rep. Concannon are spread upon the Journal:

I wanted to take a moment to recognize a few guests with us today on behalf of a very successful program – the KU Medical Center Scholars in Rural Health. Joining us today are Dr. Gerold Minns, Dean of the University of Kansas School of Medicine, Wichita; Dr. Mike Kennedy, Associate Dean for Rural Health Education and Professor of Family Medicine, KU, Kansas City and Dr. James Kallail, Associate Dean for Research and Director of Scholars in Rural Health for KU, Wichita; and Haley Bowers Lowell, 2018 University of Kansas Medical School Graduate.

The scholars program began in 1997 and was named the Scholars in Primary Care and Scholars in Rural Health program. About ten years ago it was changed to Scholars in Rural Health to define the intent as a rural program. Scholars in Rural Health selects up to 14 college juniors from rural areas who intend to become physicians in a primary care field, such as family medicine, internal medicine or general pediatrics. Participants agree to maintain good grades and to spend 40 hours shadowing a physician in their hometown during their undergraduate study, along with other course work.

In return, they are guaranteed admission to KU Medical School – WITH qualifications: they must be a Kansas resident, live in a rural community, ACT/SAT Score at or above the 75th percentile, demonstrate evidence of the dedication and compassion necessary to be a competent and caring physician. Once accepted, the student must meet guidelines – some of which are a degree from an accredited college, fulfillment of KU School of Medicine prerequisites, GPA greater than 3.5, a satisfactory score on the MCAT, satisfactory completion of shadow hours and written assignments and participation in the orientation and annual meetings and uphold the high ethical and behavioral standards required of medical students and physicians.

The KU School of Medicine has long been recognized as a national leader in the training of rural physicians and now has three campuses that provide the full four-year educational program.

To quote one of our guests – Dr. Kallail, the scholars program “is one small piece” of addressing the state workforce issue in rural settings. One national report gathering facts from rural, primary care physicians over 20 years, discovered a medical student is more likely to end up practicing primary care in a rural area if – they grew up in a rural area, they are married, they are older and attended a public medical school.

I believe KU Med has found part of the rural health solution and it works due to the students they choose to participate. One last piece – of the 14 Rural Scholars this year – 12 out of 14 matched Family Medicine, 8 of the 12 matched in Kansas. Another solid year for the KU Medical Center Scholars in Rural Health! Please join me in giving a warm Kansas House welcome to our guests from KU Medical School and to Haley Bowers Lowell who we know will stay in Kansas as a rural Doctor!

EXPLANATIONS OF VOTE

MR. SPEAKER: The Kansas Taxpayers cannot afford over 2 Billion dollars in new spending and throwing more money at a system that has proven itself to be inefficient is not a responsible use of the taxpayers, hard-earned money and is a betrayal of their trust. Mr. Speaker, I vote no on HB 2445. – JOHN WHITMER, TREVOR JACOBS, RANDY POWELL, KEVIN JONES

MR. SPEAKER: I vote yes on HB 2445. It bothers me that the court expects schools to address problems that the schools cannot fix. Likely there is no amount of money that can ever fix the underlying issue. That issue: a lack of moral and ethical center for too many folks these days. Broken families and addictions create havoc on the learning ability of students. How can a student be prepared to learn if their home situation is unstable? As I said, schools cannot fix that, but schools may be the next best solution or situation for many of these children. Resources to address these, and other issues, is not a perfect solution either but is one of the few options available. – DON SCHROEDER

MR. SPEAKER: I vote yes on HB 2445. I do so with much reservation. I do believe the equity problems have been fixed. I also believe that the funding for the 2018-19 school year meets the adequacy portion. However, the rest of the funding I believe, will not meet adequacy. I am in hopes that the Supreme Court will keep schools open and allow us to increase funding in the out years as we have the true numbers of revenue after July this year. I believe that a more bi-partisan approach could have resolved my concerns on this bill. – STEVEN G. CRUM

MR. SPEAKER: I do not believe that the funding levels in HB 2445 are sufficient to meet the Supreme Court mandate that the Legislature adequately fund public schools. I also do not believe that the process involved bi-partisan input. That said, I am willing to act in a bi-partisan fashion anyway and give the bill a chance. I vote yes on HB 2445 with reservation. – ED TRIMMER, EBER PHELPS, CINDY HOLSCHER, BARBARA BALLARD

MR. SPEAKER: Though it pains me as an educator, I vote no on HB 2445. The Kansas Supreme Court made it clear that we need to show our work in adequately funding education. A plan based on previously constitutional levels and adjusted for inflation would make a strong argument to the court. Instead, we have recycled the same failed talking points from last year and focused not on what is constitutional, but on what we choose to say we can afford. Though I hope I am wrong, I expect this bill to be found inadequate. – BRETT PARKER

CHANGE OF CONFEREES

Speaker pro tem Schwab announced the appointment of Reps. Patton and Huebert to replace Reps. Campbell and Aurand as members of the conference committee on S Sub for HB 2186.
