As Recommended by House Committee on
Local Government

Brief*

HB 2505 would clarify when a mayor is considered a member of a governing body based on the form of government utilized by a city:

- In commission and commission-manager cities, the mayor would be considered part of the city governing body in all matters; and
- In mayor-council, modified mayor-council, and mayor-council-manager cities, the mayor would be considered part of the city governing body for the purpose of voting on the passage of charter ordinances:
 - In order to be considered part of the governing body for purposes of voting on any other matter in mayor-council, modified mayor-council, and mayor-council-manager cities, an ordinance would need to be adopted by a two-thirds majority of the council establishing the matters on which a mayor may vote.

All existing ordinances and charter ordinances relating to a mayor being considered part of the city governing body would remain in effect until amended or repealed by such city.
