The bill would require the committee reports to be published on each respective agency's website.

Background

The bill was introduced by the House Committee on Taxation at the request of Representative Gartner.

In the House Committee on Taxation hearing on March 5, Representative Gartner testified as a proponent. Representatives of the Kansas Center for Economic Growth and the Greater Topeka Chamber of Commerce submitted written-only proponent testimony.

No opponent or neutral testimony was provided.

The House Committee amended the bill to require the committee reports for the Kansas Department of Revenue, Kansas Department of Commerce, and Kansas Insurance Department presentations to be published on each respective agency's website.

According to the fiscal note prepared by the Division of the Budget on the bill, as introduced, Legislative Administrative Services (LAS) indicates the bill would have a negligible fiscal effect on LAS to produce reports to summarize each committee's findings, conclusions, and recommendations. The Kansas Department of Commerce, Kansas Department of Revenue, and Kansas Insurance Department indicate the bill would have a negligible fiscal effect on each respective agency. The Department of Administration estimates it would require one-time State General Fund expenditures of $3,100 in FY 2018 for website development, but the one-time expense and any ongoing costs associated with enactment the bill could be absorbed with existing resources and staff levels.
