Senate Bill 22

Senate Bill 22 addresses many of the unintended decoupling issues associated with the 2017 federal Tax Cut and Jobs Act, including the taxation of foreign dividends and income. The purpose for including foreign income in the federal tax base was to offset the 35% to 21% corporate income tax rate reduction. By broadening the federal tax base from foreign source income, this offset revenue reductions from the income tax rate cuts.

CenturyLink strongly supports Senate Bill 22 as it represents a common-sense approach to make Kansas conducive for continued business investment. CenturyLink has deep Kansas roots dating back to 1909 but is now also a multinational corporation with operation in over 60 countries.

Although Kansas has traditionally taxed foreign dividends and will continue to do so with Senate Bill 22, Kansas has not taxed foreign income and Senate Bill 22 is needed to retain this critical tax structure. This foreign income has already been taxed by the host country and without Senate Bill 22 CenturyLink and other US-based company with Kansas operations will be at a significant competitive disadvantage.

Conclusion

Yes, Senate Bill 22 is complex, but without it the impact is very straightforward -- Kansas citizens and businesses will pay more in Kansas taxes. CenturyLink has been a longtime and proud member of the Kansas Chamber and is also part of the STAR coalition. Together, we urge your support of Senate Bill 22 to ensure Kansas remains competitive internationally as well as competitive with other States.
