

State of Kansas

Testimony

Sen. Randall Hardy

SB 140

19 Feb 2019

I think that in general, income tax credits are an excellent way for the people of Kansas to decide what they feel is important in this state. We all know that the Eisenhower Library and Museum are a catalyst for economic development and tourism in the state of Kansas, but we want the people of Kansas to also have an opportunity to show their support for this wonderful attraction. President Eisenhower could have selected a number of sites to have his legacy, but he chose Abilene Kansas because of his love for Kansas and the city of Abilene.

We now have the opportunity to honor that decision by telling the state of Kansas with our dollars how much the Eisenhower foundation means to its citizens and the state of Kansas.

I think that it is time to stand up for an attraction that is shared by only 13 other states, and help the Eisenhower Presidential Library and Museum show the world how a Kansan could accomplish so many good things for our country.
