Chairman Barker, Vice Chairman Averkamp, Ranking Member Ruiz, and members of the House Federal & State Affairs Committee.

I cannot believe we have to re-litigate the rights of a person's autonomy. A woman's right to choose when to become a parent is already one that Kansans have time and again upheld and affirmed. We have all seen the polling that shows that a majority of Kansans support a woman's right to choose, and we as a state have voted to retain the judges that ruled women have a right to autonomy.

If the majority insists this be on a ballot, I ask that you give Kansans a real chance to have their voices heard and put this question on the November ballot.
