Chairman Proehl and other members of the House Transportation Committee:

I come to you today as a proponent of House Bill 2107. Many funerals include a procession from the church or chapel to the final resting place and House Bill 2107 provides for the right of way for such a formation while traveling through the normal traffic on public roadways. In addition to the hearse, limousines and cars in recent times motorcycles from the Patriot Guard, American Legion Riders and other organizations accompany the caravan. House Bill 2107 provides for the right of way for funeral processions on the public roadways in the State of Kansas. It is important that this right of way be provided to ensure the safety of the drivers, riders and passengers of the participating vehicles.
