Each team member spoke to Committee members of their experiences and various obstacles they had faced in the teaching field. Jeri Powers told Committee members that she is currently a reading specialist for K-5th grades. She stated to Committee members that teaching is an art and that teachers must be able to motivate as well as nurture. Shelbie Witte, an art teacher at Fort Riley Middle School, told Committee members of students in her school who are dealing with a parent(s) sent to Iraq, some of which have been multi-deployments. Other team members spoke of teacher shortages, retirement and incentives, scholarships for teachers, and assistance with tuition

Vice-Chairman Horst gave each of the team members a certificate from the Education Committee.

A question and answer session followed the presentation.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:45 AM. The next meeting is scheduled January 23, 2008.
